SOLDIER AND SCHOLAR IS DEAD, AGE 88 YEARS

John Edward Oldright of Texas, News Sunset Club Member Passes

John Edward Oldright, for over fifty years a prominent resident of Austin, Texas, veteran Texas ranger, veteran of the Confederate army, captain of light artillery in the Texas state guard, bank clerk, internal revenue officer, scholar and traveler, and member of The Glendale Evening News Sunset club, died this morning, Saturday, January 26, 1924, at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, where he and Mrs. Oldright made their home.

The deceased, who would have been 88 years old July 28 of this year, was born under the English flag on the Rock of Gibraltar, where his father, Major John Oldright, was serving in her majesty's eighty-first regiment. He was the fourth of seven children, a family of unusual interest for they were all born in foreign countries, where their father saw army service.

Settle in Canada

Upon Major Oldright's retirement from the army the family settled in Canada, which at that time was known as Canada East and Canada West. Some years later John Edward Oldright was coming into manhood and reading a book on "Texas, Her Resources and Public Men," he was lured to the "Lone Star" state, where his name is well known.

At the close of the Civil war he returned to his father's home in Toronto and there fell in love with Julia L. Durand, daughter of Charles Durand, prominent attorney. The young couple were married and left their Canadian homes for Texas, where they made their home in Austin. Their marriage took place August 28, 1869, and on the occasion of the fifty-fourth anniversary event, August 28, 1923, The Glendale Evening News Sunset club met for (Continued on Page 3)

SEEK TO SETTLE RAILROAD STRIKE

Labor Ministry Holds Secret Meeting in British Labor Troubles

LONDON, Jan. 26.—Premier Ramsay MacDonald's new Labor government is attempting secret mediation of the national strike of the railroad engineers and firemen. It was learned today.

While some of the strikers have returned to duty, the movement is not yet broken.

New proposals for ending the strike, drawn up by the engineers and firemen's union, were handed to the ministry of labor this afternoon to be submitted to the railway companies.

Industries have begun to feel the full force of the strike. Many plants have been compelled to close down.

Week's Loss $10,000,000

The industrial loss from the strike during its first week is put at more than $10,000,000.

Premier MacDonald today ordered removal of the wooden barriers erected in Downing Street to protect the premier's official residence from Sinn Feiners and riotous unemployed workers.

The wooden bulwarks were built in 1920 when mobs of Sinn Feiners and unemployed men and women were staging riotous scenes at the entrance to Downing Street. The police guard within the old mansion also has been removed.

Premier MacDonald will meet his cabinet Monday for immediate discussion of Russian recognition.

Meanwhile he is making plans for closer co-operation between Great Britain and the League of Nations. He has instructed Under-Secretary Margaret Bondfield, the only woman member of the government, to attend the meeting of the international labor commission in Geneva, Monday.

GREER DID NOT SHOOT DINES, IS RUMOR IN CASE

Chief Detective For District Attorney Asserts Lawyer Claimed Client Innocent

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26.—A startling assertion by Clarence Conlin, attorney for Horace A. Greer, chauffeur for Mabel Normand, charged with having shot and wounded Courtland S. Dines, that Greer may not have done the shooting, despite his confession to the police, today injected a new sensation into the case.

Dick Lucas, chief of detectives for the district attorney's office, heated argument over the case, had told him that Greer did not fire the shot that wounded Dines. Lucas said Conlin based his assertion on information he had elicited from Greer.

Conlin, on the other hand, when seen personally, stated he had said to Lucas that Greer "might" not have fired the shot.

Conlin also said he had told Lucas that if there was danger of Greer being sent to San Quentin penitentiary that he would "have him open up and tell all he knows." Conlin admitted he told Lucas that Greer knows a lot more about the entire affair than he has told, and that if the occasion arose he would drop a bombshell into the prosecution that would rock the world.

Lucas stated today he was investigating reports that it was an hour after the shooting before Greer surrendered to the police. Greer told the officers the pistol "jammed" after the third shot. This, Lucas said, he was also investigating, as he understood the type of gun used could not have jammed.

The alleged drinking party that preceded the shooting of Dines in his apartment here New Year's night by Greer will be gone into thoroughly Monday, when District Attorney Asa Keyes questions Mabel Normand on the testimony she gave at Greer's preliminary hearing.

Keyes will seek from the actress her own explanation of statements made to the police by Dines that she was "pretty well jingled" at the time of the shooting.

Seeks Information

"If Miss Normand does not remember what occurred in Dines' apartment, I want her to say so," Keyes said today. "If she does remember, then I want the truth from her."

Keyes also asked police detectives today for information regarding the condition of Dines, Miss Normand and Miss Purviance when they were questioned at Central station after the shooting.

FIND SKULLS IN CONCRETE BLOCK

Lincoln Confesses to Double Murder of Sister and Brother-in-Law

AURORA, Ill., Jan. 26.—Warren J. Lincoln, lawyer-horticulturist and self-styled distant relative of Abraham Lincoln, today confessed one of the most amazing double killings in criminal history when he declared, according to Chief of Police Michels that he slew both his wife, Lina Shoup Lincoln, and her brother Byron Shoup, and burned their bodies in a small greenhouse furnace at his small home near here and then embedded their severed heads in a block of cement. The cement block was found where Lincoln said it would be—in a dump near his cottage and the heads taken from it. They were identified.

Mystery Solved

The block of cement was taken from the Aurora dump to the county jail, where work of destroying it began. Within a few moments a human nose was revealed, and later an entire human head.

"This solves the mystery of the disappearance of Lina Lincoln and her brother, the chief of police commented. "We have been wondering what Lincoln did with the heads of his victims. The finding of the skulls makes his confession stand up."

Lincoln had confessed that he slew his wife after she had killed her brother and then had dismembered their bodies, burning them in his greenhouse furnace. Never has he mentioned having burned the heads.

TEN MILLION DOLLARS IS VALUE OF RAINFALL

Long Drought Breaks Just As Damage to Crops Becomes Serious

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26.—Breaking a drought which threatened to do $20,000,000 damage to the crop and cattle interests of the state, California was today bathed in a steady downpour of rain which experts estimated would be worth $10,000,000 to farmers.

The weather bureau expected the first general rain this winter to continue for several days as the main body of the storm from the Pacific which brought the welcome showers has yet to move in from the sea. Southeast storm waves were flying from Point Reyes to Eureka.

The drought had begun to reach serious proportions when the rain came. Redding reported that creeks which hitherto have gone dry only in August and September were dry. Many wells had failed and in many instances farmers were hauling water for their stock.

Summer Shortage

In the Santa Clara and Sacramento valleys orchardists were resorting to irrigation and in the wheat belts of the San Joaquin valley seed wheat had been reported rotting because of lack of moisture.

According to weather bureau reports the rain today will be general as far south as Santa Barbara and hope was expressed that there will be a heavy snowfall in the mountains. With but nineteen inches of snow at Summit in the Sierras against a seasonal average of seventy-three inches, a serious shortage of water next summer from this great natural reservoir may be expected unless the snowfall starts soon. This will also result in a power shortage.

However, heavy February snows will remedy the situation, it was declared today.

The greatest precipitation was reported at Santa Rosa where in 24 hours 2.14 inches of rain fell. Orland was next with 1.78 inches and Chico reported 1.52. Merced 1.50 while Fresno reported only a trace.

Cut Off Fanatics

Colonel Bowers intends establishing a temporary station at Consolation, thus cutting the fanatics off from Siragao island, where their depredations started with the slaying of 19 constabularymen.

A base will be established at Dapa from which point detachments can easily cover northern Siragao where several Colorum bands are reported causing trouble.

A third company of the constabulary will establish a station at Pamosingan to prevent the fanatics from crossing to the mainland at Mindanao.

Colonel Bowers reported to headquarters here that it was inadvisable to attempt to penetrate the interior of the island.

Governor-General Wood is in conference with the constabulary staff regarding the situation.

Raid Sugar Plant

Reports of trouble were received today from Binalabagin sugar central where Filipinos armed with bolos invaded the plant. Manager Charles Koehner was attacked, but when the aid of bystanders fought off his assailants. The American managers of the sugar central were discharged by the Filipino directors, who recently took over the property, but according to reports received here Superintendent Carmichael and his staff refused to accept dismissal and continue to operate the plant with the Filipino planters in an angry mood.

Youth Fatally Hurt When Hit By Auto

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26.—Struck by an automobile, Robert E. Eastlack, student at Harvard military academy here, and said to be a member of a prominent family at Los Angeles, was probably fatally injured today. At the hospital it was said the youth suffered a possible basal fracture of the skull which may end his life. He also received cuts about the head and arms and possible internal injuries.

R. J. Allen, driver of the machine which struck Eastlack was held by the police for questioning.

Farm Export Finance Plan Wins Approval

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Appearing before the senate agricultural committee, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace today gave his endorsement to the McNary bill to create a $500,000,000 government corporation to finance the exportation of surplus American farm products.

Wallace said he regarded the bill as "proper remedy" for relief of the agricultural industry.

REED SEEKS DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 26.—United States Senator James A. Reed will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president, it was announced here at noon today by Ed Glenn of Louisiana, Mo., manager of Reed's successful campaign for the senate in 1922. The announcement by Glenn was made after a two hour conference ending at noon, with more than 100 of Reed's supporters. Glenn stated that Reed would issue a formal statement tomorrow or tonight.

JAPS CELEBRATE ROYAL MARRIAGE

Tokio Throngs Jubilant as Festival in Honor of Wedding Begins

TOKIO, Jan. 26.—Tokio was crowded today with the largest gathering since the earthquake in connection with the celebration of the first festival day in honor of the marriage of Prince Regent Hirohito.

Business was entirely suspended today as the populace wholeheartedly turned its attention to making memorable the regent's wedding day. One hundred and fifty other brides chose today for their marriage because of the good luck which they expect will come from such a propitious date.

The police today were actively watching for possible trouble incited by radicals but up to noon today there was a complete absence of anything in the nature of an outbreak. More than 7,000 policemen guarded the processions today.

Ambassador Wood, who is returning to Japan from a visit to America, wirelessed that he will be on hand to represent the United States at the palace Tuesday when the regent and princess will receive

MAGNATE TO GIVE BACK EXTENSIVE HOLDINGS IN STATE

Willing to Reconvey All California Properties To U. S. Government

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Close on the heels today of the White House announcement that the senate's investigation of oil leases is "pointing to a criminal prosecution," came a new sensation before the senate public lands committee.

Representatives of E. L. Doheny, multi-millionaire oil magnate, who secured extensive leases in California from ex-Secretary of the Interior Fall, appeared before the committee this afternoon and announced Doheny's willingness to reconvey the lands to the government.

Doheny testified on the stand several days ago that he had loaned Fall $100,000 a few months prior to his securing the leases. He also testified that he expected to make $100,000,000 out of the leases.

Made by Lawyer

The offer of Doheny this afternoon to return the lands to the government was made by Gavin McNab of San Francisco, Doheny's personal counsel.

Doheny had previously offered to return the leases "if any board of experts" appointed by President Coolidge found upon investigation there was anything wrong with them or with the manner of securing them.

At the hearing on January 24, the chairman of the committee (Senator Lenroot) asked Mr. Doheny if he would be willing to have these contracts so reconveyed without the intervention of the suggested board of experts, McNab said.

Willing to Act

"Upon further consideration of the matter, Doheny now wishes to inform you that he is willing, in order that there may be no basis for criticism of his company's dealings with the government, to recommend the acceptance of the modification of his original offer suggested by the chairman."

"Of course, you are aware that Mr. Doheny has at all times contended and contends that all of his company's leases and contracts are entirely legal and valid, and that this letter is without prejudice to his and his company's position if the arrangement here-in referred to be not concluded."

Fall Is Worse

Dr. John Wharton, physician in former Secretary of the Interior Fall, issued the following statement this afternoon:

"Mr. Fall is worse today than he was yesterday. His heart is bad. The bronchitis is clearing up nicely but he is very weak."

Asked whether Fall would be able to appear Monday to testify before the senate committee regarding oil leases, Wharton replied:

"I hesitate to say at this time." Fall is under constant care of a nurse.

At the direction of the president, Secretary of the Interior Work started an investigation of the legal and technical aspects of the Teapot Dome and California oil leases.

It also was learned that an official statement of the president's views concerning the leases probably would be issued by the White House following the testimony of former Secretary Fall before the Senate investigating committee.

Doheny Says Inquiry Is 'Right and Proper'

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Edward L. Doheny, here to search for the note which Albert B. Fall gave him for a $100,000 loan, declared today it was "right and proper" that the government should investigate the possibility of criminal action in leasing of the naval reserve lands and prosecute if any crimes have been committed.

"So far as I and the Pan-American Petroleum & Transport company are concerned, there is nothing to fear," he added. "Our leases were regular and proper. There was nothing criminal about our transaction."

"So far as our leases are concerned, I have offered to turn (Continued on Page 2)

SOCIAL EVENTS

Harmonious Party

The third annual banquet of the Intermediate Christian endeavor of the Glendale Presbyterian church last night proved to be a most harmonious affair. "Harmony" was the keynote of the affair and dinner appointments, decorations and toasts were carried out in the musical spirit.

On the dinner table were clever place cards bearing a musical scale, a Biblical quotation on harmony, and the name. All the place cards were also labeled "Book of Harmony" and containing the menu, written on musical staves and list of toasts.

The musical idea was further carried out in the decorations about the room. "Harmony in Our Society" the following toasts and speakers were listed: "The Glee Sign, The Banner of Christ" by Graham Tinning; "The Staff, Our Officers and Department Chairman" by Mildred Thompson; "The Signature, Our Superintendents" by Mildred Sooy; "The Tempo, The Standard of Our Society" by Mr. Brown; "The Notes, Every Member" by Paul Edmonds; "The Words, The Bible in Our Society" by Ruth Jeckel; "The Alumni" by Miss Olive Rapp.

Under the title "Harmony in Our Entertainment" was announced "Harmony in a Cornet Solo" by Ivan Dow.

During the evening Miss Gertrude Heideman read the "I.C.E. Companion" printed by the prayer meeting and edited by Paul Edmonds.

All Day Meeting
The regular monthly all day meeting of the members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. was held yesterday at the hall on South Glendale avenue, with a very large attendance.

The members of the local post, held their business session in the morning, followed by the usual noon luncheon.

The afternoon session included an impromptu program which the president of the W. R. C., Mrs. Mary Bennett, turned over to Comrade C. R. Norton. Comrade George W. Sanford gave one of his original poems and Mrs. Catherine W. Sanford gave an interesting talk regarding the Relief Corps work in Wakefield.

Rev. Norton announced that the second Sunday in February has been set aside as memorial day for members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. Special services are to be held, details of which will be announced at a later date.

Later in the afternoon the regular routine of business of the Relief Corps was transacted with the president, Mrs. Mary Bennett in charge.

Valentine Lunch
A daintily appointed Valentine luncheon was presided over yesterday by Mrs. S. A. Davis when she entertained a number of friends at her home, 333 North Louise street.

The rooms of the Davis home were attractively decorated in a red and white color scheme, carried out with graceful bouquets of red carnations and red and white place cards, favors and other luncheon table appointments.

Covers were laid for Mesdames C. H. Northross, W. G. Keunke of Los Angeles, John Grumbling, Emma Sudlow, Fred Hough, George Blyth, M. E. Blyth, all of Glendale.

All the guests present were former residents of Newton, Kan.

Give Card Party
A social event of interest to Tuesday afternoon club women will be the card party to be given Thursday afternoon at the clubhouse by the Shakespeare section, with Mrs. Walter Jones as curator.

Tables will be arranged in the banquet room for both bridge and five hundred, and prizes will be given for every five tables. Games are to start at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Ernest Carr and Mrs. H. Clough are in charge of refreshments and Mrs. R. C. Horner of prizes.

Tickets for the affair can be secured from any of the section members or from Mrs. A. A. Barton at the clubhouse office.

Royal Neighbors
The members of the Royal Neighbors of America held their regular monthly meeting last night with a very large attendance.

This was the first meeting of the year conducted by the newly elected officers, Estella Hook, orator, presided. Several matters of importance of interest only to members were discussed and plans inaugurated for the year's work.

Section Luncheon
Another luncheon of the Parliamentary law section of the Tuesday afternoon club is to be held next Monday at the clubhouse, preceding the section meeting in the afternoon.

Mrs. C. A. Brandstater, curator, will present Miss Eva Daniels, as chairman of the afternoon activity. She will direct the study. There will be piano numbers by Miss Reba Phillips.

Lodge Meeting
Routine business matters occupied the time last night at the meeting of Glen Eyrle chapter, Eastern Star in the Masonic temple on South Brand boulevard.

Mrs. Jennie A. Phillips, worthy matron, directed the meeting. Following the meeting refreshments were served.

Tonsils Removed
B. R. Householder and Bertram Fenn of 1915 East Vassar street had their tonsils removed this morning at the Glendale Research hospital.

Pretty Affair

One of the charmingly appointed affairs in the realm of the younger social set, arranged by the members of the Philathea class of the First Methodist church, was the "Hearts Party," given last night at the church.

The affair was given for the members and their friends and proved to be a most enjoyable event. The parlors of the church had been decorated for the occasion in a red and white color scheme. The lights were surrounded by a shower of red hearts, cupid and hearts were used in profusion throughout the decorative scheme.

Games were played, including a get-acquainted game and later Hearts was played. The tally cards which were heart shaped were hung on two miniature trees placed at either side of the room, each guest being directed to pluck a heart from a tree. Later in the evening prizes were awarded to the winners.

Refreshments were served in one of the primary rooms downstairs at artistically decorated tables. Red and white crepe paper adorned the tables and place cards with heart marked the guests' places. Tall red candles and a red crepe paper basket and cupid also were used in decoration.

Those present were Misses Mary Oliver, Lora Percy, Mary Rich, Gladys Flagg, Eleanor Perkins, Vera Schlottbauer, Alice Jernegan, Dorothy Hamilton, Ruth Williams, Ethel Thomas, Florence Hamilton, Marjorie Bowers, Alice Rose, Nora Hesselhoff, Kathryn Ludy, Clara Harness, Dorothy Woods, Evelyn Henderson, Helen Hood, Hazel Hamilton, Helen Hooper, Lois Haver, Jean Swindell, Ruth Spafford and Messrs. Roland Percy, Charles Rich, Elwood Ingledue, Dr. V. P. Ervin, Russell Briggs, Harold Hamilton, Vernon Wilson, Robert Fischer, Bill Weiss, J. Claycomb, Hollis Brunstitt, Salter Boteous, Harold Snow and Spring, Glen Roberts, Glen Hallik, Nelson Dick, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rasmus, Mrs. Lavera Percy, Mrs. Helen K. Scripps and Mrs. Mary J. Oliver.

Hear Mrs. Cole
The feature of the oratorio section of the Glendale Music club meeting last night at the high school was a group of vocal numbers by Mrs. Helen Graham Cole, who is leaving shortly for a trip east and later to make her home in San Francisco.

John Smallman, director, was in charge of the rehearsal. He and members of the section were pleased to learn that Mrs. Cole hopes to return from the east in time to take part in the presentation of "Elijah" (Mendelssohn), which the section is working on.

The next meeting of the section will be next Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the old high school.

ALHAMBRA BEATS GLENDALE SQUAD

Local Basketeers Go Down To Defeat in Furious Game With Moors

Running up a lead in the second quarter which the Glendale Union High school casaba squad was unable to overcome, the Alhambra quintet downed the locals yesterday in a hard-fought battle on the winner's court, 15 to 25.

The first quarter ended six up, but in the second frame the Moors ran up ten points, while the Dynamiters only tossed in two. The third round was Glendale's, the boys scoring up four points to three, but not enough to overcome the lead. The final quarter resembled a football game more than a genteel basketball fracas and spills were fast and furious. Each squad rolled up six more points in this part. The locals were going fast in the last stage and might have got sore had it not been for the stalling for time on the part of the victors.

Harvey and Hyatt were the outstanding players for Glendale. Each shot three goals, Hyatt tossing in one of the prettiest baskets seen in a long time. Both Harvey and Hyatt had all the fight that was needed and a little more, making the Moors snap some to chalk up points. Elliott also played a good game, surprising the fans when he failed to completely lose his temper and get mad as he usually does. His dribbling was spectacular and his shooting good. Zaun and Swaney performed well at the guard berths, their only fault being that they could not leave their guard at the same time, which left splendid chances for the Blue and Gold forwards.

As this is the locals' second defeat of the season, all pennant chances are gone, unless something disastrous happens to the Alhambra team. The only pennant chances left are Red and Black quintet seem to rest with the 150 pounders, who have been going strong. This team is having its hard luck also, as their captain and star guard, McAllister, graduates next week. Just who will fill his place is not yet decided, but the choice rests between Heideman, Harrison or C. Thompson.

The line-ups: Glendale—Elliott (capt.) (5) and Harvey (6), forwards; Hyatt (6), center; Zaun and Swaney (1), guards. Subs: Carver for Hyatt. Alhambra—Bowers (4) and Nye (capt.) (5), forwards; Roche (1), center; Roodhouse (9) and Ewers (4), guards. Subs: Rhoades (2) for Bowers.

DADS' AUXILIARY IN LIVELY MEET

Broadway Fathers Work Out Improvement Program To Aid School

Broadway Fathers' Auxiliary went into executive session with a vengeance last night in Broadway auditorium, and there can be no doubt that the value of co-operation is being shown in this district.

The ways and means committee has been active during the past thirty days, and reported as follows:

Investigations regarding the sanitary unit provided for in the school bond election last March reveal that the present buildings were reported by the engineers as inadequate to house these units, still Broadway is to have new units, according to Mr. Black, business manager of the board of education, as soon as present plans for new additions are completed.

Broadway's committee obtained a hearing regarding the installation of two drinking fountains for the school grounds, and at last night's meeting the general sentiment pointed to the fact that these fountains should be installed.

Because not too great an expense is involved, and it is due Broadway to eliminate the crowded conditions reported at Broadway daily.

Sprinkling Problem
A report was received covering the obtaining of additional equipment to control the sprinkling of the grounds. New equipment has been ordered and will be installed immediately, according to the business management of the board of education.

A report from the school grounds committee recommended the removal of the large tree in the rear of the school buildings. The severe winds have weakened the root forms and there is danger of the tree falling during another storm. Damage to children and property might result. The eucalyptus trees on the grounds were found to be firm, and suggestions recently made that these be "topped" were decided upon as unnecessary. Likelihood of a suggestion to dismantle the pepper trees in front of the school. The committee investigated thoroughly and the value of both from the viewpoint of safety and beauty made it seem necessary to recommend that they remain intact, for the present at least.

Attention was called to numerous complaints received regarding thoughtless and careless reading of the papers in front of the school. The committee investigated thoroughly and the value of both from the viewpoint of safety and beauty made it seem necessary to recommend that they remain intact, for the present at least.

Several very narrow escapes have occurred during the past few weeks. The Parent-Teacher association and Fathers' Auxiliary feel that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure in situations of this sort. It is too late to take notice of these matters after a casualty to one or more of the children. The secretary was instructed to bring the matter to the attention of the proper authorities for suggestions for methods to prevent serious accidents in this district.

Talks On Board Merger
H. N. Henry, a Broadway dad, and incidentally a member of the committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce, explained the problems of the varied school system. He answered in detail questions in favor of or against the junior high school and union high school plans.

Mr. Ferguson brought up the movement at Broadway for the organization of a junior auxiliary, to be composed of the boys at Broadway. The objects of this movement are to bring the fathers and sons into closer touch and to encourage the highest spirit relative to their competency as school children. To hold office the boys must obtain a certain percentage in school work. The juniors meet once a month with the fathers and work out a satisfactory solution of school problems in these joint meetings. Further a working knowledge of the correct manner in which to conduct such meetings will be added to the knowledge of the boys and better equip them for future school work. A committee was appointed to draft plans and bylaws, and next month the organization will be effected.

Plans for an entertainment to be given for the benefit of Broadway way school were started and a committee appointed to prepare a program to be presented in the near future.

A lack of benches for the luncheon period and upon the play ground resulted in the board of education offering to supply materials and the carpenters of the Fathers' Auxiliary furnishing the men to construct ten new benches. Saturday afternoon, February 9, all Broadway dads who are carpenters are hereby notified to bring their hammers and saws to Broadway to show Glendale how to put school benches together economically and quickly.

COMEDIAN SCORES
Frank Terry, an English comedian, playing at the Glendale Theatre today puts over a temperance lecture in song form entitled "Goodbye, Mr. Booze" which scores the heaviest applause ever received by a single act. "Songs of Yesterday" and the other numbers on the program also were well received.

LECTURE ON JAPAN
Rev. C. H. Tilden, associate pastor of the First Baptist church, is to give an illustrated lecture on Japan tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock at the church. This lecture will be preliminary to a school of missions beginning at 8:30 o'clock February 3 and continuing for six weeks.

Brotherhoods to Hear Addresses By Noted Judges

Judge Edwin F. Hahn of Pasadena, sitting in the superior court of Los Angeles county, who has had an interesting and exceptional experience in dealing with juvenile delinquency. He will address the Federated Church Brotherhoods of the Glendale valley, at the banquet Tuesday night, January 29, in the Congregational church auditorium.

It will be "Judges' Night" at the annual banquet and get-together of the Federated Church Brotherhoods of the Glendale valley at the Congregational church, January 29, when those who attended will have the pleasure of meeting and hearing a number of superior court judges.

The banquet is scheduled to start at 6:30 o'clock and will be open for men only. The principal address will be delivered by Judge Edwin F. Hahn of Pasadena, on "The Problem of the Delinquent Boy in Los Angeles County." Judge Hahn has had a great deal of experience in dealing with juvenile delinquency and is counted upon to make a very interesting talk.

Other judges of the superior court expected to be present are: Hartley Shaw of Glendale, Harry R. Archibald of Santa Pasadena, C. W. Guerin of Pomona, Ira F. Thompson and Paul Burks of Los Angeles, John L. Fleming of Venice and Ralph H. Clock of Long Beach.

The Federated Brotherhoods announce that following the banquet their annual election of officers will also be held. All men of Glendale are invited to attend. Tickets may be obtained through the officers of each church Brotherhood in Glendale.

DEATHS - FUNERALS

MRS. WILMA SCOTT
Impressive and beautiful in their simplicity were the funeral services conducted at the Jewel City Undertaking parlors yesterday afternoon for Mrs. Wilma Corwin Scott, who died January 20, 1924, after an illness of a few days. The casket was covered and surrounded by beautiful floral offerings from bereaved relatives and friends. Rev. J. J. Soper officiated at the services, reading the Methodist Episcopal burial service, and speaking briefly of the beauty of the life and character of the deceased. The touching hymns, "Lead Kindly Light" and "O Love, That Will Not Let Me Go" were sung in duet by Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cotton. At Forest Lawn Memorial park, the final service was conducted and the casket placed in a receiving vault pending final arrangements for interment to be made at a later date.

Among the immediate relatives who were present to attend the service were the widow, Lieut. Col. Harold B. Scott, four of their five children, Mary Jane, Helen, Wilma and Harold, Jr.; a sister, Mrs. John Dean with Mr. Dean and son Corwin, all of Wildomar; the parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Corwin of Elsinore; Mrs. Corwin's sister, Mrs. Charlotte Valentine with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Chester L. Magee of San Gabriel; Prof. and Mrs. Harry L. Howe, life-long friends of the family, came from Coachella.

MRS. DELIA E. PHILLIPS
Mrs. Delia E. Phillips died yesterday afternoon, Friday, January 25, 1924, at her home, 727 East Chestnut street, at the age of 63 years.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by the L. G. Scofield Undertaking company.

DOHENY WILLING TO RETURN LANDS

California Oil Magnate Claims, However, There Is Nothing Dishonest

them back to the government in an impartial investigation shows any irregularities.

Doheny arrived from Washington last night and is stopping at the home of his son, Edward L. Doheny, Jr., who is in California. He said he had not yet had an opportunity to search for the note of the Fall loan, but that he expected it to "turn up."

Hiram Johnson Urges Teapot Dome Cancellation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Teapot Dome, with all its entanglements, was definitely thrown today in the approaching political campaign.

With the Democrats planning to make it one of their chief issues and the White House indicating that criminal action is to be taken against the leasing of the great naval oil reserves by ex-Secretary of the Interior Fall, Senator Hiram Johnson, Republican, of California, the only avowed candidate against President Coolidge, came forth today with a demand that the lease be cancelled immediately.

Johnson indicated he would deal extensively with Teapot Dome in his coming speeches.

"Of course," said the California senator, "there is only one thing that ought to be done and it should be done without the slightest demur or delay, and that is to cancel the lease."

"This is no time for technical legal disquisitions. The circumstances for a long time have required, and recent developments imperatively demand that those who ignorantly or wilfully in good faith or bad, have entered into approved, or countenanced tainted contracts disposing of the public domain, should instantly repudiate them."

Democrats Agree
"This is the very least that any administration should do. I don't think there has been done long ago but it must be done and done once. There can be no excuse for what happened; there can be no excuse for failure to act immediately."

Virtually all Democrats in the senate agreed with Johnson. They freely admitted that they intended to carry the whole question of naval reserve leases to the country in the approaching political campaign.

"No candidate can avoid the issue," declared Senator Heflin, Democrat, of Alabama.

"The Coolidge administration will take no action until the senate hearings have been virtually completed. While President Coolidge now inclines to the belief that Teapot Dome is heading directly toward criminal action, we are not sure of it."

Fall himself, broken and "ill" will be accorded an opportunity to tell his story Monday before any action is begun, either towards criminal prosecution or cancellation of the leases he negotiated to the Sinclair and Doheny interests. He borrowed sum ranging from $10,000 to $100,000 from both, according to the evidence.

Tries to Untangle
Meanwhile the public land committee itself went back to work today to try to straighten out the maze of conflicting testimony and charges before it.

Archie Roosevelt and G. I. Wahlberg, both of whom resigned from Sinclair's company because of suspicions, were summoned to Senator Snoot, Republican of Utah, to explain differences concerning a payment of $68,000 to Tom Johnson, foreman of Fall New Mexico ranch. Roosevelt previously testified Wahlberg had told him about cancelled check for this amount which aroused his suspicions. Wahlberg later said Roosevelt was mistaken, that he had no mention of $68,000, but had referred to "six or eight cents."

Interest of the committee also centered around an unsigned memorandum found in the committee's files. Clerks declare they do not know how it got there. The memorandum denies Fall ever obtained money from Sinclair or Doheny and assails the investigation into Fall's private financial affairs as "an attack upon decency."

Music Section Ends Program
By Presentation to Mrs. J. D. Cole

There were two pleasing features of the meeting yesterday afternoon of the Music Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club in the auditorium of the clubhouse, first the happiness of the members upon greeting their curator, Mrs. Warren Roberts, who has been ill for several weeks, and second, the honor paid Mrs. John D. Cole, one of Glendale's most talented vocalists, who leaves next week for a visit in the east and upon returning goes to live in San Francisco.

The clubhouse auditorium was almost filled for the program, which had been arranged by Mrs. Cole and Mrs. Enrona Hopkins. Hostesses of the afternoon were Mesdames F. H. Wallace, Allen Dunlop, G. Phillips and Miss L. Kutler.

Mrs. Cole announced the program and after the final number Mrs. Warren Roberts came upon the stage and in a brief speech told of the love and appreciation of the club women for Mrs. Cole's talented voice and charming personality, presented her with a half dozen solid silver teaspoons. In presenting the gift Mrs. Roberts in her own delightful manner told of the happy association the club women had enjoyed with Mrs. Cole, of her generosity in giving her talent for all causes and of her sweet personality that had won her countless friends.

Expresses Thanks
Although somewhat overcome by the surprise honor Mrs. Cole responded most graciously, thanking the women for their gift and expressing regret upon leaving Glendale.

Later tea was served by the hostesses in the palm room. The program given early in the afternoon had a most artistic setting for the drawing room scene being used by the Royal Stock company remained on the stage and added much to the pleasure of the afternoon.

Taking part in the program were Mrs. Cole, soprano; Mrs. Enrona Hopkins, harpist; Salvatore Tomaso, mandolinist; and the Nevin quartet, Mesdames C. A. Parker, Frank Arnold, A. M. Draper and John D. Cole.

Mrs. E. R. Ripley accompanied by Mrs. Cole and Mr. Tomaso's daughter Elaine, played the accompaniment for his two vocal numbers, and an encore, which was one of his own compositions.

The next meeting of the section will be February 8, when a program on American composers will be given. Mrs. Joseph Marle is to arrange the program, and Mrs. C. L. Viereck is to be hostess.

Millionaires Yachts Have the Same Names

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 26.—Two beautiful pleasure yachts, each bearing the name "Ara," and each the property of men of millions, were tied up together at the municipal docks here recently. The yachts belong to W. K. Vanderbilt of New York and E. B. Dane of Boston.

Vanderbilt's "Ara" has been outfitted for a cruise through the West Indies, where the millionaire sportsman plans to collect rare marine specimens for his private museum. The other "Ara" has been made ready for a pleasure trip to the Bahamas and West Indies. Waterborne rumors say Dane tried to purchase the Vanderbilt "Ara," but, failing, bought another and renamed it.

Nearing Completion
Started two weeks ago, the four-flat apartment being erected by Fred H. Voss of 401 North Isabel street, on the southwest corner of California and Columbus avenues, is now ready for the plasterers, and will be completed within six weeks.

The building will be one of the most modern in Glendale. Each apartment will contain four rooms and bath. It will be a stucco finish. Mr. Voss is supervising the work personally, the cost being 10,500.

VETERAN OF CIVIL WAR SUMMONED

John Edward Oldright Is Dead at 88; Prominent in Lone Star State

The first time, and honored Mr. and Mrs. Oldright at the B. O. Holbrook home at 426 West Harvard street.

In Memory of Son
Mr. and Mrs. Oldright had two children, one of whom died in infancy, and the other a brilliant son, Charles Durand Oldright, who died at the age of 24. The son entered the University of Texas at 16 years and graduated for further study at the German universities and on the eve of receiving his degree of doctor of philosophy he died while on a visit to his parents in Texas. To his memory Mr. and Mrs. Oldright established in 1910 a $10,000 fellowship at the University of Texas, known as the Charles Durand Oldright fellowship in philosophy.

The name of John Edward Oldright is indelibly written in much of the political history of the state of Texas. During his residence in Austin he was chief clerk in the Texas state department, captain in the Texas state guards, bank clerk, internal revenue officer and for eight years chief deputy collector of internal revenue in the third district of Texas. He retired from business activity in 1906.

Makes Trip Abroad
Desire to travel was one of the dominating interests of his life and in his 76th year he went abroad, taking the Mediterranean tour of three months. During his journey he visited his birthplace on Gibraltar. His other travels took him through California, Oregon, Washington and to the Hawaiian Islands. During recent months he often expressed his desire to visit the Orient.

During their residence at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital the Oldrights have made many friends, who will regret to learn of Mr. Oldright's passing. This regret will be shared by many others in all parts of the United States, Canada and England.

Funeral arrangements are in charge of the Jewel City Undertaking company.

Speeders Pay Fines, Get Jail Sentences

Yesterday was a bad day for speeders who appeared before Judge J. Russell Morton of Pasadena, who was sitting in Judge F. H. Lowe's court. Stiff fines were meted out, and two of the offenders were given jail sentences.

Charles Rozak, Jr., of 1443 Tamarind avenue, Los Angeles, who was found guilty of driving forty-one miles per hour on Brand boulevard between Colorado and Broadway on the night of January 22, was fined $35 and sentenced to serve one day in the city jail. Motor Officer Collins was the complaining witness.

For driving at a rate of between forty-five and fifty miles per hour on Verdugo road January 16, William Schultz, 740 East Broadway, was fined $35 and sentenced to serve five days in the county jail. Later in the afternoon the jail sentence was remitted. Schultz was arrested by Motor Officer Divine.

Columbia to Study Tropical Medicines

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—The trustees of Columbia university have approved a plan to establish and carry on at the Institute of Tropical Medicine in Porto Rico courses in tropical medicine, to be open to students and graduates of the medical school and all other institutions that offer satisfactory preliminary training. It was announced last night by Secretary Frank D. Packenthal.

The subject of tropical medicine, which is of growing importance, can be dealt with clinically only in tropical climates, it was stated, and the present proposal offers an opportunity for Columbia to get the benefit of this clinical observation and experience.

COMMENT That's All

Rich Men and Their Loans
Human Family Big Tragedy
Why Pick On Lone Man?
Go the Limit in Probing

By Gil A. Cowan

Everybody is talking of graft these days. It has become a very common term. In fact, an honest official is no more honest than the people think. And talking, reading, listening to stories of graft cause people to think it.

In New York a very estimable man in the minds of men, one William Anderson who is quite noted as a temperance leader, secretary of the Anti-Saloon league, we believe, admits taking $25,000 from "a mysterious stranger." He claims to have spent it in an equally mysterious manner.

Yet the district attorney there has brought out the fact that he deliberately misled his followers regarding the source of that sum, and no doubt he had the best interests of all at heart when he did so. But the public in New York, or Glendale, or elsewhere, does not like to be misled. Not if they know about it.

In Washington, E. L. Doheny, a wealthy resident of Los Angeles, takes the witness stand once again, in the form of a statement, and tells the public he loaned Secretary of the Interior Fall, an old-time friend, the trivial sum of $100,000. Now, to Mr. Doheny, that amount of money is valued about as much as we value a dollar or so. But can he make an intelligent public believe that it is customary to loan old friends so MUCH money? We doubt it.

Yet it is perfectly plausible to rich men that Mr. Doheny altruistically gave the former Mexican senator the price of a ranch. That is the way rich men, both in Washington and Glendale, have to fortify their friendships. Money speaks louder than words, although we will admit some people are cheap in both the amount of talk or cash necessary to make them "come across."

Really, the human family that inhabits this earth, a good old world if you take it as such, is quite a tragedy when you stop and look at things as they really are. The ignorance, the selfishness, the floundering to be found on every side, not to worry over the "nutritious" of mankind, make one cynical to a degree in face of conditions that should breed optimism.

In ignorance, of course, there is bliss, but we find that the ignorant are imposed upon by the selfish, who, in turn, make others' floundering, and so a vicious cycle is set going, with many lesser phases. The result of knowledge, the bliss of true altruism, or the freedom from any designs on the success of others, automatically classes one in the "nut" category, at least with the workaday world.

There you have a rather laughable analysis of people. However, it has a redeeming feature. The ordinary person, who is in the majority, doesn't get classified. And it is pleasant—oh, so pleasant—to think of you, and me, as just ordinary human beings, residents of Glendale, who get along well together, not altogether ignorant, not selfish to a marked degree, but the least bit flounderingly inclined, and certainly not subjects for a sanity test.

Now, when I give somebody a lift, or loan them money, as I have learned it is not wise to do, no one suspects my motives. Or, if I accept a loan, or place an I. O. U. on something like that, why it is not the least bit embarrassing.

But when public officials take their friends' money with which to buy something, it is a scandal, principally because it is human nature to be selfish, and many are actually jealous that they do not hold a position where they too might get the "sugar." Is it not so? It is. They, too, have their price.

There is a big roar about $100,000, or is it only $25,000, loans? And somebody will have to be ruined, no doubt; yet where is the news about Wall street brokers' raids, or gasoline going up, or something that digs a lot deeper into all of our pockets than "ancient history" about somebody's ranch?

If we must muckrake, let us rake the motion picture combines, the gasoline refiners, the whole shebang. Let's not all jump on just one individual. Let's go the limit.

You know they used to do things so-so out in the west in the early days. And when they got through the whole works was shot up. Nothing much remained to be said.

So, if Congress must investigate and we heartily commend that, let them discover who, what and why they are. Also, let them learn who the people are.

Not one, or two, but all of 'em.

DEADLY GERM LURKS IN HANDSHAKING HABIT

Doctor's Warning Worries Politicians During Campaign Year

BOXING IS SAFE FOR YEAR MORE

Danger of Sport In New York Being Killed Is Considered Past

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Unless all signs fail, the manly and manly art of legalized boxing in the state of New York has been made safe for another year at least. There is not the slightest doubt that, less than three weeks ago, the pastime was in imminent danger of being legislated out of existence. In the meantime, however, the efforts of the reform element have fallen into disrepute and it is now the common belief among promoters and politicians alike that the menace no longer lays in violent form.

One source of cauliflower encouragement is the fact that the word has gone out to those closely identified with boxing that more than the usual care must be exercised during the next three months to see that nothing untoward or reprehensible must occur.

This is taken to mean that the boys are to lie low, lackadaisical and lifeless, for the remainder of the legislative session and indicates a disposition among politicians to line up behind the Walker law once more.

Neither Governor Smith nor Senator Walker, father of the law and majority leader of the senate, will make any statement on the boxing situation.

Some weeks ago Walker was quoted as saying that he "would not walk across the aisle to save boxing," but since then, it is understood that he has suffered a change of heart, largely due to the fact that it is now evident that boxing can and will be saved.

DEMAND STAY OF GAS EXECUTIONS

Pardon Board Is Flooded With Protests Urging Mercy for Killers

CARSON CITY, Nev., Jan. 26.—The state board of pardons was expected to render a decision late today in the cases of Geo. Jon and Hughie Sing, Chinese, condemned to die by lethal gas February 8. A flood of protests against the execution and pleas for commutation of the death sentences to life imprisonment were received by the board.

Unless some legal action is taken to stay it, Thomas (Russell), a Mexican, convicted of murdering an Indian girl, will also die by the poison gas the same day as the Chinese.

Warden Dickerson announced today that the cyanogen gas to be used in the execution would leave Los Angeles February 1 by truck. Work is being rushed on the death cells.

Riveter Who Smashed Record Critically Ill

BELFAST, Jan. 26.—John Moir, a shipyard riveter, who some time ago by a wonderful feat of endurance broke the world's riveting record, lies as helpless as a child in a hospital in this city from over-exertion.

In an effort to save his life two fellow-workers have given their blood, which surgeons transfused into Moir, but he still lies critically ill.

ARIZONA FACING PROSPEROUS YEAR

Cotton Crop Big and Mines Operating; More Money
In Circulation

PHOENIX, Jan. 26.—High cotton prices, with a bounteous crop, together with successful diversified farming, promise unbounded prosperity for Arizona and the Salt River valley this year.

The total yield of cotton will go far over the early estimates of 60,000 bales, it is stated on good authority. Early oranges and grape fruit are now going on to the eastern and European markets; the lettuce crop will soon be ready for harvesting. Farmers and workers are busy hauling cotton to the gins, and merchants of the city are beginning to feel the effects of more money in circulation.

Conditions throughout the state seem more favorable than for months past. D. C. Jackling, head of one of the leading copper producing plants, said recently that the position of copper was as good if not better than that of any other metal.

While the copper market has been slightly under last year's quotations, the increased sales have given reassurances that conditions are bettering. None of the large properties have closed down and all of the mining camps, including the gold camps of northern Arizona, are busy, according to reports reaching the state mine inspector's office.

1923 Records Reveal Shipbuilding Decline

LONDON, Jan. 26.—Shipbuilding statistics for 1923 disclose world-wide depression and heavy declines in output.

Britain, for the second year in succession, leads, with a total output of 632,000 tons, which, however, is about as much as the pre-war output of the Clyde shipyards alone.

Germany takes second place, with 415,000 tons output, and the United States third, with 220,000 tons. Japan is fourth, with 181,000 tons.

Harland & Wolff take precedence over all other shipbuilding firms, with a total individual output of 102,000 tons. An American firm is second, while two German firms come third and fourth.

Cost of Living Keeps Going Up in Britain

LONDON, Jan. 26.—The high cost of living problem is still on the tapis in England.

The Ministry of Labor Gazette announces that the average level of retail prices of commodities, including fuel, feed, rent and clothing, is still 77 per cent above that of 1914 and has increased 2 per cent in the last month.

Food prices alone have increased 3 per cent in the last month.

A distinct upward trend in living costs is shown by Ministry of Labor statistics, the upward movement starting in June and progressing rapidly throughout the autumn months.

CLUB CELEBRATES BIRTH OF KIWANIS

Santa Monica Pastor Speaks On World's Need of Real Builders

Glendale Kiwanis club yesterday celebrated the ninth anniversary of the birth of Kiwanis, at its noon luncheon held at the Tuesday Afternoon club. A program replete with special features which tended to emphasize the growth and development of the Kiwanis idea from its very inception was presented in an interesting manner.

Kiwanian Rev. W. H. Matthes, secretary of the Santa Monica club, was the principal speaker. He selected as his subject, "Kiwanian Ideals," or "The Timeliness of Kiwanis." Citing a quotation, "The world sadly needs builders," as a basis of his address, the speaker launched the thought that Kiwanians are builders and playing a very important part in the work of constructing the real fabric of society.

Through all the various activities of the busy business man and Kiwanian, the speaker traced the purpose uppermost in the mind of every true Kiwanian, "Service and the effort to be a real builder." This he interpreted as fulfilling the Kiwanian ideal and hence being timely in the world's work; timely from the fact that it helps the construction of a society that is founded upon the principle of the golden rule.

Old Songs Are Sung
Added zest was given the meeting, when Song Leader George Lyons started things off with a regular song fest. "Sweet Adeline" was sung with a fervor and expression, not to mention harmony, that should have delighted the heart of—well—well, of anyone—of Spencer Robinson. Other "old-timers" were just as enthusiastically sung.

President Johnson of the Exchange club was introduced and on behalf of the members of his club extended congratulations to Kiwanis on the celebration of her ninth birthday. He also issued a standing invitation to the members of Glendale Kiwanis to visit the Exchange club at any time.

President George Karr of Rotary was also an honored guest and enthusiastically voiced the wishes of Glendale Rotary to Glendale Kiwanis for another successful year.

A special message from Kiwanis International on the progress of Kiwanis was read by President A. L. Baird. He was followed by Mayor Spencer Robinson, who briefly told of the co-operation and help that such a service club as Kiwanis proved to be to the mayor and other city officials in the administration of the city's affairs.

Past President A. L. Ferguson and Past District Governor W. A. Brown, who were scheduled to appear on the program, gave their allotted time to the speaker of the day.

Tujiang's Invitation
A special invitation from Tujiang Kiwanis was read by Secretary Don Webb, urging members of Glendale Kiwanis to be present at their charter meeting, to be held on the evening of February 15. This charter celebration will be held at Twin Pines and John Steven McGroarty will be chairman.

Kiwanian Cliff Cole drew the names from the hat for the awarding of the attendance prizes. The fortunate members were: Spencer Robinson, W. L. Taylor and Bert McGinnis. The attendance prize won by Bert McGinnis is to be furnished by Chief Fraser, and the chief stated that "Bert" would have to come down to headquarters to get it.

Fred B. Walton, proprietor of Walton's Haberdashery, 148 South Brand, was introduced as a new member and received a hearty welcome and the glad hand of Kiwanian fellowship.

The "Silent Boost" was an agreeable surprise—a beautiful calendar, a copy of a famous painting, "Home—our greatest heritage," furnished by Ole Andersen of the Newton Electric Co.

Chairman Bill Bode of the entertainment committee announced that plans and arrangements were now practically complete for the inaugural ball to be held next Tuesday night at the Tuesday Afternoon club. Members were urged to attend and to bring guests if they desired.

Visitors introduced were: W. H. Matthes, Dr. W. W. Dunn, Dr. Ralph Updike, C. H. Hendricks, George Crane, Dr. H. O. Apt and Dr. Archer Moody, all members of the Santa Monica Kiwanis club. Dr. Moody is a past president of the club and Dr. Apt is an active vice-president.

On the Dead Quiet!
The rest of this story is strictly confidential; in fact, the writer wouldn't think of ever putting it into print. However, between you and me, there surely couldn't be any harm in talking it over, and thinking what a joke it would be if it ever did get into print.

Last Wednesday, George Dennis, Ray Goode, Bill Bode, Dr. Taylor and another fellow went rabbit hunting. The purpose of the hunt was to bag sufficient rabbits for the Friday luncheon. Leaving Glendale at 4:30 a. m. Thursday, the party left for parts unknown, but with the avowed intent of shooting rabbits.

Their plan, as announced the evening before, was to return to Glendale not later than 11 o'clock Thursday, as they said that would allow plenty of time to kill all the rabbits necessary.

Well, the party got back all right, but they only had ten rabbits, and one of their number issued an invitation to all Kiwanians to eat lunch today at the Kiwanian table in the "Chateau de Qualite." Some forty or more responded and everyone remarked

MANAGER TO BE CHOSEN SHORTLY

Council to Name Successor To Reeves Within Next Few Days, Belief

More than two weeks has elapsed since W. H. Reeves handed in his resignation as city manager and definite action toward appointing his successor will probably be taken by Mayor Spencer Robinson and the members of the City Council within a short time.

A. J. Van Wie, city clerk, has withdrawn his name from the list of candidates for the position, but William B. Short, city engineer of Anacortes, Wash., and W. V. Wheat, of Glendale, have entered the list so that there are still nine men who have announced their candidacy. They are:

G. W. BERCAW, Glendale, electrician.
DAVID J. BLACK, Glendale, business manager, board of education.

BERT FARMER, Los Angeles, former president of the Los Angeles City Council.

J. L. JAMES, Long Beach, engineer.

HENRY MOLZ, Glendale, attorney.

V. B. STONE, Glendale, assistant city engineer.

H. C. VANDEWATER, Glendale, municipal building superintendent.

WILLIAM B. SHORT, Anacortes, Wash., engineer.

WILLIAM V. WHEAT, Glendale, business man.

In addition to the nine men who state they are in the field, R. V. Orbison, at present city manager of South Pasadena, is mentioned prominently as the likely successor to Mr. Reeves, although he has not made application in writing—at least, the application is not on file at the city hall.

He stated to a representative of The Evening News yesterday that he had not been offered the position by the City Council of Glendale, but that if such an offer was made, he was in a position to give them a fairly immediate answer.

Wants More Money
The Glendale position pays $4800 a year and, it is understood, Mr. Orbison would want considerably more than that amount for his services.

It is rumored about the City Hall today that right at present Mr. Orbison has the "edge" on the other candidates, and will get the place, provided satisfactory arrangements can be made. Officials, however, refuse to confirm this and declare no decision has been reached.

Mayor's Statement
Although many rumors are heard, Mayor Spencer Robinson stated this morning that the council had not settled upon any candidate as yet, regardless of any statements to the contrary. They are weighing carefully the qualifications of the nine or ten men in the field, and the selection will be guided by a question of efficiency alone.

Several of the candidates have circulated petitions which later were presented to the council, while the mayor and councilmen are kept busy hearing friends of the candidates urging the appointment of their own individual choice.

Now that a week has elapsed since any application has been received, decisive action is looked for in the near future. The members of the council have not stated whether the matter will be taken up at the regular meeting Tuesday morning or deferred until Thursday. In fact, they have given no inkling when the subject will come up for discussion, but as City Manager Reeves is anxious to be relieved from his duties, the choice will not be delayed any longer than necessary.

STORE DISPLAYS $5 SHOE WINDOW

The shoes offered include all the latest spring offerings, with new shades and shapes, new strap and cut-out effects, in patent leather, kid and suede. The sale is a stock reducing event, in preparation for the move that will be made by the shoe department into new quarters on the second floor annex.

RESCUED AT SEA

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26.—The crew of the British steamer Mary Horlock was rescued by the liner President Taft 700 miles off the Japanese coast after they had been forced to take to small boats, according to wireless advices to the Federal Telegraph company today from the Taft.

what a "wonderful flavor for wild rabbits."

It was certainly mighty fine of the bunch to go out and kill those rabbits and all the boys appreciated it. Now then—here's the kick—the writer has it on good authority, and of course you're to keep it under your hat, but those birds never saw a single rabbit. They fired all of their shells at targets and paid four bits a pound for ten Belgian hares at a poultry ranch near Burbank. Now what-day you think of that?

Moist peat is a decided and powerful antiseptic.

LEGS BROKEN IN MOTOR ACCIDENT

J. L. Brosseau Sustains
Three Fractures and Cuts
In Boulevard Crash

With his injuries reported this morning as painful, although not necessarily serious, J. L. Brosseau, 439 Vine street, lies in the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital as the result of being run down on Brand boulevard at Lomita street last night at 9:30 by a car driven by Walter L. Borkman, 20 years old, 1510 Kull street, Los Angeles.

Mr. Brosseau suffered two broken ankles, a broken right leg and a deep gash on the head, together with minor body bruises and cuts. His companion, J. K. Harris, who was with him at the time, suffered only minor injuries.

The Borkman boy, with his younger brother, Lyman, who was riding with him when the accident occurred, were detained at police headquarters all night. This morning, when it was learned that Mr. Brosseau's injuries were not likely to be fatal, they were given a ticket for reckless driving and ordered to appear in police court Monday morning.

BUILDING PERMIT TOTAL $714,023

There Is Still Chance For January to Get Boost
To Million Mark

A total of $741,023, or nearly three-quarters of a million dollars, has been registered to date by the municipal building department under H. C. Vandewater.

There are still four and one-half business days this month, so that the goal of a million dollar month for January, 1924, may yet be realized.

The following permits were issued yesterday:

Mrs. Laura Lewis, 7 rooms and garage, 2866 Canada boulevard	9,500
Frank Johnson, 8 rooms and garage, 1637 Glorietta	8,500
M. J. Murray & Son, 5 rooms and garage, 629 Palm drive	4,500 not aware of the nearly fatal result of the mishap until they stopped the car farther up the street and returned to the scene of the accident.

HOLD DRIVER OF TAXI IN KILLING

Father of Film Actress Dies
As Result of Beating, Police Declare

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—David Barnosky, 30, a taxicab driver, was taken into custody today in connection with the death of Henry R. Harris father of Mildred Harris, motion picture star and divorced wife of Charles Chaplin.

Police said Barnosky was driving the cab which collided with the car in which Harris was riding, leading to the argument which resulted in Harris' death. Harris died early today as the result of the beating he suffered. Mrs. Charles Barr, Harris' sister, said today that Harris had been separated from his wife and daughter for some time and that both were living in Hollywood. They have been notified of Harris' death.

CAR IS STOLEN

D. D. Henry, a guest at the Brand Hotel, 223 1/2 South Brand boulevard, reported at police headquarters last night the theft of his Ford touring car some time during the afternoon, from the lot in rear of the hotel. The car carries North Dakota license 79722.

CALLED TO FIRE

The fire department was called this morning to extinguish a grass fire on Kirby road. They subdued the blaze before any damage had resulted.

of mechanical achievement. Epitome of Today, in the morning and sit down to luncheon a few minutes before 1 o'clock in the picturesque Mt. Wilson hotel on Mt. Wilson, twenty-four miles, distant laterally and one instant horizontally!

to be able to do this casually, without preparation or with no more pretense at the unusual than in taking her twenty-four-mile trip! The improvement of the vehicle, in so far at least as it is demonstrated by the driver, has really brought Mt. Wilson, with its unique and famous astronomical plant, so close that it can be considered a suburb of Glendale!

Reed invited a reporter
Glendale Evening News

particular interest, and the romance, in the of Lewis F. Reed sitting ably behind a smooths, sweetly purring engine shooting up the nine mile Mt.
son grade in thirty-five mins, without a stop. Compare picture with that of a har-aged 7-year-old boy, trudging up a steep mountain trail behind a laden burro train—Lewis F.
Reed making his first trip up Mt.
Wilson, at a time when his father had the contract for transporting materials for the first observatory on that peak. Compare it with the picture of a young mechanic toiling with every ounce of mental and physical energy to keep a great cumbersome gasoline motor, mounted on a still more cumbersome truck, operating long enough to drag the unloaded truck up this same road—Lewis F. Reed in 1908 on the first motor truck that ever traversed the Mt.
Wilson road.

Mr. Reed was born at the base of Mt. Wilson. His father had come to Southern California in 1869, and shortly afterward acquired a farm near what is now Sierra Madre. Using this farm as a base, the elder Mr. Reed engaged in hunting and packing.
His sons grew up to the same life,
and from the age of 12 years, Lewis spent a large part of his time hunting and camping on the slopes of Mt. Wilson and in the wild mountain regions that extend for sixty miles northward. Harvard University established an observatory on Mt. Wilson in 1890, and Mr. Reed's father transported all the materials for building it up the mountain trails on burros.

After two years operation the site was abandoned by Harvard and the equipment moved to South America.

One of First Garages

In 1905 Mr. Reed was running a garage in Pasadena. It probably was one of the few garages in Southern California at that time.
A party of scientists representing the Carnegie foundation had selected Mt. Wilson for their observatory, had built a road—practically as it stands today—to its peak, and were hunting for a truck to use in hauling materials up the road. They had tried a truck, a huge affair with central gasoline generating plant driving a dynamo, and the dynamo feeding four individual electric motors, one on each wheel. The engine in this truck originally was too small, and Mr. Reed procured a larger gasoline engine, and nursed it through its maiden trip up the hill.

But to come back to the Ricken-backer and the remarkably pleasant experience it and its owner furnished a Glendale News reporter. This trip is one that can be recommended both as a wonderful scenic treat and as an excellent test of a motor car. The rise to an altitude of 6,000 feet in a steady pull of nine and one-half miles is one you can brag about if you make it on a non-stop basis. Not that many cars can't do it—but all of them that do are good cars.

COOLIDGE GREET'S SCHOOL TEACHER AND TWO PUPILS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—
In recognition of conspicuous service in highway safety education, a school teacher and two pupils were received recently by President Coolidge and presented with certificates of award provided by the Highway Education Board and the National Grange, P. of H. while in Washington as the guests of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, during the week of January 14 to 19.

The teacher is Miss Teresa
M. Lenney, New Rochelle,
New York, whose lesson on highway safety was chosen as the best of 60,000 submitted in a national contest, winning a prize of five hundred dollars. She was presented to the President by Senator Royal S. Copeland, of New York, and Representative Bertrand H. Snell, of New York. The pupils are Miss Theodora Poole, Lansing, Michigan, who was presented by John N. Willys, of Michigan, and Miss Mildred Soper, Seneca Castle, New York, presented by Representative John Taber.

SALES SHOW INCREASE OVER '22

Dec., 1923, Reveals Gain of 400 Cars Over Same Month Year Ago

There were 17,263 sales of new passenger cars and trucks in December as compared with 16,936 in the corresponding month last year, according to the January issue of Motor Registration News of California. This was a gain of 400, or 2 per cent over December, 1922.

Registration of new passenger cars aggregated 15,607 as against 15,409 last year, an increase of 1 per cent. Truck sales showed a gain of 12 per cent.

sition, says this statistical journal published at Oakland, when they tried to outdo the December record of 1922 over that of 1921 when this state made a showing of 99 per cent increase.

Big Program Assured At Ascot on Sunday

Fred Horey, national dirt track champion on the International Motor Contest association circuit whose sensational dethroning of Ralph De Palma at the opening of the new Ascot Speedway last Sunday, declares he will sweep the card tomorrow at Ascot.

The manner in which Horey humbled DePalma over the dirt track created a sensation among the spectators, but the Italian speed king claimed that the dust clogged the sensitive carburetor adjustment he was using. This coming Sunday, declares DePalma, will be another story for the track is being heavily coated with crude oil.

Nine events will be on the card for next Sunday, three of them for motor-bikes. The two-wheel mounted dare-devils made a big hit with the huge crowd which attended the opening meet. More than forty cars are entered for next Sunday's races.

Eddie Meyer, Redlands speed king, holder of the A. A. A. dirt track records, experienced serious eye trouble from the calcium chloride which was sprinkled on the course to lay the dust. The calcium did not have nearly as much effect on the dust as it did Eddie's eyes. Meyer, like DePalma, will go out next Sunday to regain his lost prestige.

In numbers of greeting cards sent every year, those for Christmas head the list, those for St. Valentine's Day are second, and among men, Mothers' Day has third place; among women it shares with Easter cards, and with people in general New Year's comes fourth.

How to Keep Water Out of Car Engine

"Some folks claim that oil and water do not mix," says Arthur G. Zeller, president of the Michigan State Automobile school, Detroit.

"This may be true enough, but you will find that both lubricating oil and gasoline absorb a considerable percentage of water and introduce it into the 'innards' of your automobile. Cold weather aggravates this condition and if you will make a practice of draining the used crankcase oil from the engine every three or four hundred miles, as you should, you will greatly prolong the life of the machine.

"Water looks nice under bridges and is fine to swim in, but as a lubricant it is not all that it should be. It gets into the engine through the medium of lubricating oil and it is carried into the carburetor by the gasoline. Perhaps there are sufficient strainers between the gasoline tank and the power plant to prevent the water from interfering with engine operation under ordinary conditions, but let the weather get cold and the film of water collected on these strainers will almost invariably freeze, with the result that no gasoline can get to the engine and it ceases to run.

"The car may start from a warm garage and this condition develop somewhere along the road with great inconvenience to the motorist.

"By all means flush and drain the gasoline tank at least twice each year—clean out the gasoline pipe and clean out the gas strainers and settling basin."

MAY CAUSE FIRE

If brakes are permitted to drag, even though the lining is made of asbestos, which is virtually incombustible, they are fully capable of setting fire to the rear.

More than 25,000,000 residents of this country under 25 years of age are not receiving systematic religious and moral instruction from any church.

GREAT SCENIC JOURNEY TO ELSINORE

168 Mile Motor Trip Proves Delightful to Party of Glendale People

A 168-mile motor trip, no mile of which retraces itself, a great scenic circle taking in all kinds of natural beauties and famous places, traversing stretches of canyon wild, lake-side view and cultivated orchard area, was described by Harry E. Hall of the firm of Tanner & Hall, Buick agents, 237 South Brand boulevard.

Mr. Hall named the trip "The Elsinore Lake-Riverside Swing." Accompanied by Mrs. Hall, and by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tanner, Mr. Hall drove a Buick, 1924 model, five-passenger touring car, over the circle last Thursday.

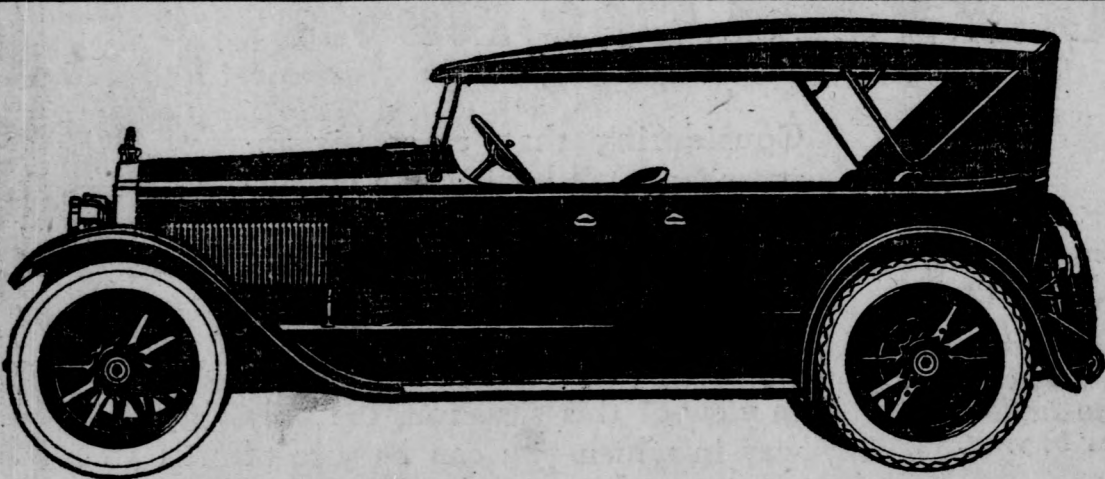

Elsinore lake is one of the larger natural lakes in Southern California. It is a body of water over five miles long and one mile wide. In duck season it is a great hunting ground.

Famed Hot Springs

It is in a region of hot springs, and the hot mineral waters obtainable in all forms at the town of Elsinore, adjoining the lake, are famed for their beneficial influence on rheumatism and kindred ailments, Mr. Hall said.

Although there are good hotels at Elsinore, Mr. Hall and his party chose to drive on to Riverside before stopping for lunch. The lure of the famous Mission hotel, one of Riverside's best known institutions, with its interesting museum of early California curios, may appeal to some motorists, as it did to them, more strongly than the scenic attractions and boating or fishing at the lake.

Great Day's Outing
The trip makes a wonderful day's outing. Mr. Hall said: It traverses excellent pavement nearly all the way, only a short stretch of detour road near Elsinore. (Continued on Page 2)

Can You Afford to Overlook These Proofs of Packard Leadership?

Packard's extraordinary beauty and brilliance you can see at a glance.

Packard prestige, and the distinction attaching to Packard ownership, you already know.

The wonderful riding comfort, the wealth of power, the ease of handling, will be apparent in a demonstrating ride in a Single-Six.

Fortunately, also, a widespread personal experience with Packard is available to guide you in selecting your next car wisely.

From Packard owners you can learn

why the Single-Six is good for many years of satisfaction.

Their records of operating costs will also show 16 to 20 miles per gallon of gas, and 15,000 to 20,000 miles from a set of tires.

You will find them proud in the possession of cars which seldom need service, and happy in their experience with Packard standardized service when mechanical attention is required.

The satisfaction of thousands of Packard owners explains why the Single-Six is the pre-eminent outstanding quality six today.

SERVICE FEATURE IN SALE OF CAR

Nash Dealer Stresses Policy of Agency in Caring for Client's Needs

A Nydegger, president of the Nash Sales company, 112 South Maryland street, stated yesterday that the prospective buyer of an automobile in the year 1924 has some very interesting things to consider. Besides the matter of brakes, involving the change to four wheel brakes by some models, there are other changes that command careful attention on the part of a discriminating buyer, such as new ideas in body design, new things in steering, gear shift, carburetion and so on.

The greatest improvement of all, however, in Mr. Nydegger's opinion, revolves around the changed policy of up-to-the-minute auto selling agencies toward the matter of service. "For instance," said Mr. Nydegger, "when we sell a car and deliver it to the buyer, our thought of the transaction is that we have only done half of our part. The other half consists in following the operation of that car with perfect service. We have a splendidly capable mechanic in charge of our service department, a man who knows what he is doing every minute, so we are qualified both to promise and deliver good service."

Trade-in Values
Bringing up the topic of the expectation many buyers have of larger trade values for their cars than the dealers are willing to give, Mr. Nydegger quoted C. A. Wine, general manager of the National Automobile Dealers' association, to the effect that the trading allowance that is included in the list price of an automobile makes a fictitious list price. It is made up in that form solely to permit a dealer to make an over-allowance in a trade for a new car. And when a man who pays cash buys the same car he pays a penalty for it. The prospective purchaser should be careful to compare actual values of new cars with their list prices and carefully weigh the significance contained in the allowance

DEALER FEATURES HEWITT BALLOONS

New Style of Tires Growing in Popularity, Says Franklin Agent

Hewitt Balloon tires for any make of car are being featured by E. S. Beggs, manager of the Motor Sales Co., 406 East Colorado street, who also distributes the Franklin and Rollin cars in this territory. These balloon tires, Mr. Beggs claims, are rapidly gaining in popularity with motorists all over the country, because of the ease that they impart to automobiling under all conditions, and he predicts that it will be a very short time until all automobile manufacturers will adopt them as regular equipment. The sales of Franklin cars in this territory during the past year is taken as a convincing indication of the growing trend toward the air-cooled car. Mr. Beggs declares, and Franklin dealers through the Southland are laying their plans to cope with a greatly increased demand during the coming season.

price if an old car is to be traded. "Ninety-nine per cent of the owners of old cars know when they are being given an excessive amount for their old car in a trade," said Mr. Nydegger, "and therefore they also have an opportunity of knowing whether they are buying a new car with full value represented in its list price. "The dealer, the salesman, the policies of the house, its financial stability, its treatment of its customers, its maintenance department, have everything to do with car satisfaction. The prospective purchaser who makes his selection on the basis of a large allowance for the old car cannot intelligently buy and take into consideration the elements that will determine his own best interests."

INCREASE PAIGE FACTORY OUTPUT

Executive Praises Work of Local Distributor on Inspection Tour

Predictions of a banner year for Paige salesmen were made this week by an executive of the Paige-Detroit Company, who stopped here on a tour of the Southern California agencies to visit the local dealer, Ralph B. Bliss, 219 West Colorado street. The Paige factory, which has been devoted largely to the manufacture of Jewett cars, is now concentrating all its facilities on making Paiges, since the new Jewett factory was completed, and the factory production is already showing a marked jump, permitting the firm to place the Paige on the market at a reduced figure.

A more aggressive sales policy will be adopted in California, it is stated, since the firm is in a position to meet the requirements of its dealers more rapidly than has been possible in the past, and everything points to a vast increase in the volume of sales.

The factory official complimented Mr. Bliss and his sales manager, F. S. Paden, warmly on their new establishment and on the record that they have been making in the sale of both Paiges and Jewetts since the embarking in business in Glendale.

'Goats of America' to Combat 'Bluesheviki'

The society asks the privilege of selling "refreshments" and announces its purpose to "cultivate and encourage a spirit of liberty, justice and tolerance."

SCENIC TRIP TO LAKE IS ENJOYED

Party of Glendale People Journey to Elsinore in Buick Car

Leaving Glendale at 8:30 o'clock in the morning, and taking an easy gait, with two hours' allowance for luncheon at Riverside, Mr. Hall completed the 168½-mile jaunt at 5:15 o'clock that afternoon.

The Buick rolled out of Glendale by way of South Brand and Glendale boulevard. Its course took it into the heart of Los Angeles via Figueroa to Seventh, and on eastward out of the downtown traffic to the intersection of Seventh and Stephenson avenue, thence east to Whittier boulevard and into the open country along the southern highway from Los Angeles to San Diego. Through the town of Whittier and on to La Habra, the road was a good one. La Habra is notable for its orange groves, and just now is excited by much oil development, signs of which may be seen on all sides.

Go Through Fullerton

The road forks just south of La Habra, the main highway being the right hand fork. Mr. Hall followed this, proceeding through Fullerton, a town that can boast a really fine hotel—the kind of hotel, Mr. Hall said, that Glendale ought to have—and on to Anaheim. It is here that the San Diego road is abandoned. To reach Elsinore one turns east on Center street in Anaheim and follows the pavement to the town of Olive. From Olive the road parallels the Santa Ana river through the Santa Ana canyon for eighteen miles. This is a little-traveled road, comparatively, and traverses a country full of fine camping places and much natural beauty.

From Corona the road leads into a still less thickly populated area, Temescal canyon, with delightful scenes through its entire twenty-two-mile length to Elsinore. Nine miles from Corona the road passes within a mile of Ivy Hot Springs, a beautiful resort. The whole canyon is remarkable for its wooded slopes and mountainous atmosphere. It is here that the only break of the pavement that extends throughout this whole day's trip occurs. Work is being done on the road, and for five or six miles there are detours and troublesome spots that call for careful driving.

Watch Your Speed

At Elsinore the circle encounters another of the through highways between here and San Diego, furnishing a splendid road for the return trip, which is made by way of Riverside and Ontario to the Foothill boulevard, and thence to Pasadena and Glendale.

Mr. Hall mentioned two matters worth bearing in mind especially on this trip. One was the opportunity at Riverside to take a short side trip to visit the Mt. Rubidoux shrine, made famous by its annual Easter celebration.

The second thing to remember is the fifteen-mile speed limit that is being rigidly enforced by officers stationed on the Box Springs grade, a long, winding hill leading into Riverside.

Supplant Orientals on Sacramento Ranches

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 26.—Active steps toward supplanting Japanese farmers in the Sacramento Valley with white settlers from the middle west states, following the exodus of the Orientals because of the Supreme Court decision adjudging "crop contracts" illegal, were taken today by the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce.

Several thousand dollars will be spent in advertising the inducements offered to American settlers to locate in this section. Construction of roads, betterment of mail service and other factors necessary to be put into operation before whites of the most desirable class will make their homes in territory formerly occupied by Orientals, will be inaugurated at once.

Oriental colonies mostly are located in the most desirable territory and when modern facilities are introduced a rush to secure farms is anticipated.

Battle for Lives in High Sierras Storm

NEVADA CITY, Jan. 26.—Leaving their automobile buried in an avalanche at the base of a mountain, Justice O. G. Hanson of Manhattan, Nevada, and Allan Johnson of San Francisco reached here this morning after a two-day life and death battle with the Sierra snows.

At dusk in the evening they were caught in a blizzard forced to abandon the machine, which soon was covered in a snow-drift. Late in the night the two men found an abandoned cabin and after fighting their way all the next day through the snow managed to reach Bassett's station, a small place many miles from the cabin, where they spent a day recuperating.

It is not thought possible to recover the automobile until late in the next summer when the snow has melted.

A tobacco pouch has been so designed that it will "roll" and fill a cigarette, a small hollow tube inserted at one end being used to roll the "smokes" and the tube then employed for filling.

MASTERPIECE OF SCREEN IS SHOWN

Perfect is a large word to apply to any picture but critics have agreed that it exactly fits "Little Old New York," which shows at the Gateway Theatre for three days, starting Sunday, January 27, and at no advance of prices, states Manager B. E. Roper, in spite of the fact that it has been hailed from coast to coast as one of the biggest films of the past five seasons.

Marion Davies, in the dual role of Patricia and Patrick O'Day, attains the very pinnacle of success, while Harrison Ford as Larry Delevan, Courtenay Foote as Robert Fulton, Mahlon Hamilton as Washington Irving, Montague Wehman as "The Hoboken terror" and Sam Hardy as Cornelius Vanderbilt furnish unforgettable roles.

Shows Early Days
"Little Old New York" is an attraction that will take its place among films that live forever and will be a source of profit and pleasure ten years from today, reflecting as it does from its charming mirror the life of America in its beginnings. The creators of "When Knighthood Was in Flower" have scored again, overwhelmingly.

Shown in Glendale for the first time, this picture is destined to pack the Gateway Theatre as it has never been packed before by any of the great successes that have played there. It offers as an added attraction Marion Davies, the charming star just crowned Cinema Queen

Son of Kaiser's Aide Pleads Insanity at Trial

BERLIN, Jan. 26.—Wilhelm von Keudell, son of the ex-kaiser's master of ceremonies, will be tried as a burglar. He is charged with having committed numerous burglaries in company with "professionals." Keudell is said to have climbed the front of his father's castle at night, entered his father's room and stolen costly jewels and clothes.

When the date for the trial was set, young Keudell's attorney applied to the court to have his client's state of mind examined by a doctor, alleging there is no special reason for Keudell to steal and plunder, having enough money at his disposal. On the same day old Keudell died, leaving his entire fortune and his castle to his son. This puts Keudell, Jr., in a very awkward position. If he is declared insane he will be disinherited but spared a severe sentence. On the other hand, if he is declared normal he will retain his heritage but be liable to severe punishment.

Booze Eats Inside Out of Galvanized Bathtub

BARNESVILLE, Ohio, Jan. 26.—Real poison booze was captured by Morristown raiders here. The "hiker" had been made in a galvanized tub. The chemical action of the galvanizing material, in combination with the booze, stripped the tub of its covering, leaving the sheet steel exposed.

Bibles in 550 different languages have been issued by the British and Foreign Bible Society of America, by the New York exhibitors, following a big popularity contest.

"Little Old New York" is the product of the Goldwyn-Cosmopolitan studios, directed by Sidney Olcott from the play by Rida Johnson Young.

Roads Haul 540,000 Carloads of Autos

That the railroads will have handled over 540,000 carloads of assembled automobiles and 210,000 carloads of parts and tires in the year closing December 31 was stated by J. S. Marvin, general traffic manager of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, in opening the conference of freight traffic managers of the industry at Detroit, last month. The railroad revenue on this traffic is estimated at $200,000,000. More than a million machines have been driven over the highways to destination by dealers and 80,000 shipped by boat.

STUDEBAKER OFF FOR NEW RECORD

Purchasers Back on Market After Christmas Period of Spending

"Now that people have got most of their Christmas bills paid up and are through figuring out their taxes, they are finding that they are able to buy the automobile that they wanted to get but were afraid that they might not be able to afford, so they are coming back on the market again, and Studebaker has got off to a good start toward making 1924 another Studebaker Year," says Robert L. Conover, sales manager of the Packer Auto Co., 246 South Brand boulevard, Studebaker dealers.

"The last week has shown a striking advance in our sales, especially on the closed models, and prospects are growing brighter every day, with the certainty that we will establish another record year practically assured already."

The members of the Packer Company's sales force are elated over the leadership that they established in the sale of cars in the Glendale territory last year, declaring that they passed every other car except Ford and Chevrolet in the number of cars sold, and every man on the force is eager to better this record this year. Arrangements that have been made with the factory are said to assure prompt delivery and favorable consideration for all demands for more cars from this territory.

Autoists Flock Here From All Over U. S.

During October and November, according to Motor Vehicle Department figures, 6,333 cars entered California. At an average of four passengers each they brought 27,332 into the state in the two months preceding the winter rush of tourists.

The greatest contributors to this incoming caravan in order were: Colorado, 577; Illinois, 463; Washington, 460; Kansas, 434; Michigan, 432; Minnesota, 406.

Many came across the continent from the Atlantic states, New York furnishing 287, Pennsylvania 163, and Massachusetts 157. There were 342 cars from Oregon and 214 from Arizona.

RICKENBACKER IS CAR OF COMFORT

Get Lewis F. Reed to Drive You—and Learn About Auto Efficiency

Intermediate near the base of the hill and pursued to the top on that speed, with the exception of an occasional brief change to high.

The road is a succession of switch-backs up the mountain side. It has many turns so sharp that a car loses all momentum. At such places the motto is "If you like to live, drive carefully."

So driving up the Mt. Wilson grade doesn't consist in "shooting a hill," but in putting your car through a long, steady test of endurance and strength.

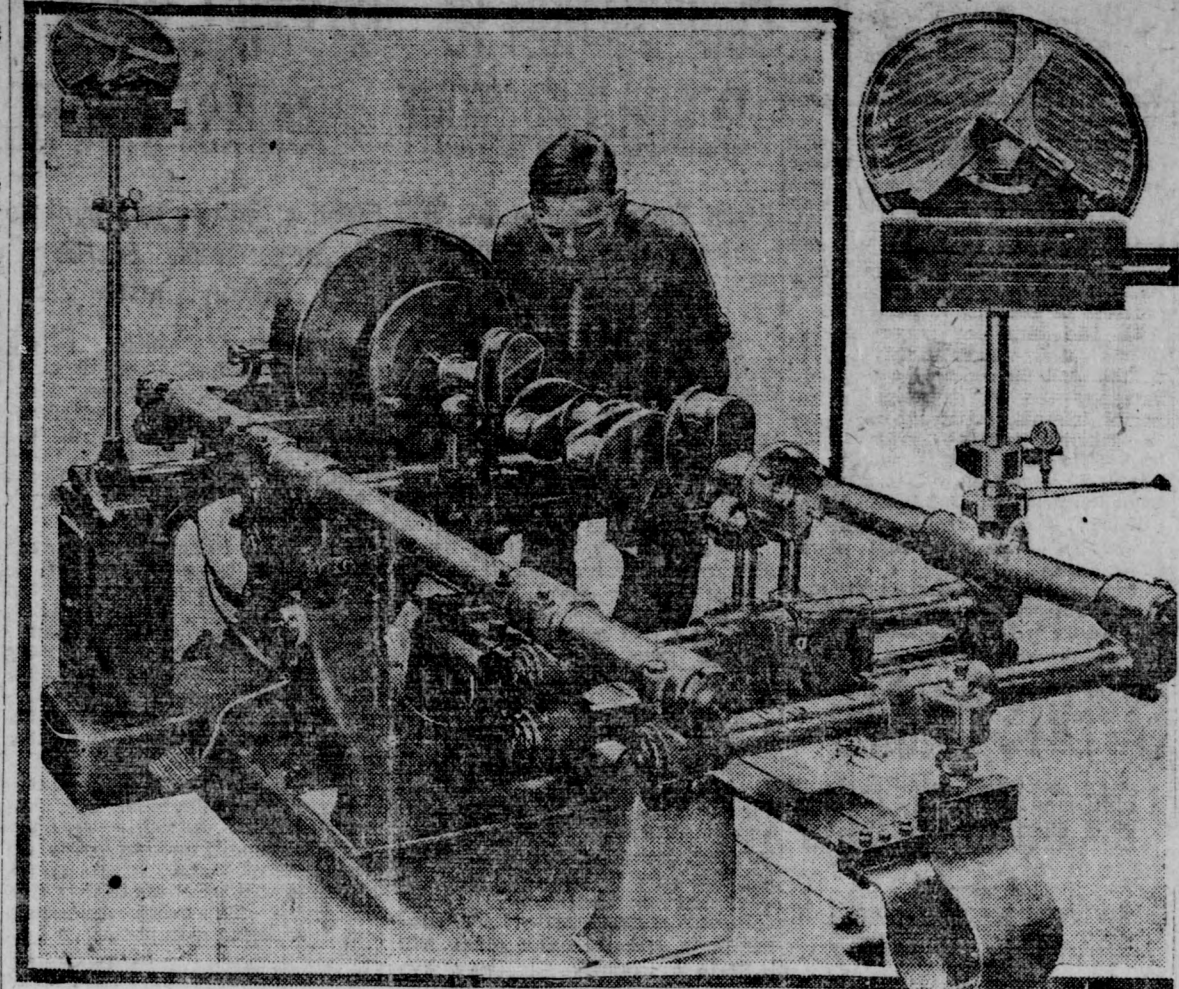

At the top of the hill is the wonderful Carnegie observatory, a scientific plant representing an investment of a million and a half dollars, employing some twenty earnest astronomers whose life-work consists in reading the eternal mysteries of the heavens. If you make the trip to arrive at 1 o'clock you just have time to eat a well cooked meal and get over to the museum, which is open to visitors from 1:30 to 2 o'clock. The museum is a small wooden building exhibiting photographs of celestial subjects. At 2 o'clock entrance is given to the great observatory with its 100-inch telescope—the largest in the world. You see how an instrument that weighs 100 tons is moved about by the touch of a finger on an electric switch—how a whole 600-ton weight building housing the telescope is turned on its axis in the same way.

And after the demonstration is over, if you are lucky enough to be taking the trip with Mr. Reed, he will stroll with you over to the edge of the plateau that crowns the mountain, stand on a brink overlooking a chasm so deep its bottom is veiled in mist, and tell quiet anecdotes of Mexican bandits and horse thieves, of hunting tragedies and deserted camps, of the mystery and romance that haunt those dim places over which the smiling peaks hold sway.

Nottingham machine-made lace used on the bridal dress of the Duchess of York was a fine gauge reproduction of an old classical Malines pattern, dating from the best Mechlin period of 1760 to 1800.

WELL - BALANCED CRANK SHAFT VITAL FACTOR

Care Displayed In Nash Factory Insures Smooth Running

As most motor car owners and all automobile experts know, a smooth running engine depends on an accurately balanced crankshaft. The Nash mechanics balance every crankshaft, before it goes into a motor, on a specially arranged machine that records the most minute deviation from the specifications demanded by the manufacturer. Three calculations are made and checked against one another, and failure of these figures to agree in every detail means the rejection of the crankshaft.

December Sales Show Gain Over 1922 Total

sales of cars and trucks for the state for December of 1923 as against the like period of a year back we find that 1923 out-did the former record by a total of 400 sales.

Analyzing the total sales of cars and trucks for the northern half of the state, we find a 5 per cent decrease in that it fell shy 375 sales of its December, 1922, record, the mark attained in December, 1923, being 6,390.

Southern California dealers can boast of the largest increase, the per cent being 7, which is equivalent to the finding of 775 motor car and truck buyers south of the Tehachapi. The totals for the southern territory read: December, 1923, cars and trucks, 10,973; December, 1922, cars and trucks, 10,198.

North Shows Loss

Northern California in the passenger car field registered a 5 per cent decrease, which represents a loss of 354 sales, the difference being found between 6,166 sales in December of 1922 and 5,812 new passenger car owners in December of 1923.

Southern California's division on the passenger cars dropped 2 per cent from the increase shown when massing the passenger car and commercial industry as one. Its gain, however, was 552 more passenger cars sold and registered in December, 1923, than the total of 9,243 registered in December of 1922.

MAKERS FEATURE 4-WHEEL BRAKES

Mechanical Versus Hydraulic Principles Will Be Issue in 1924

An idea of the wide approval that Manufacturers' exhibits at the 1924 National Automobile Show in New York City is obtained from a letter written to W. A. Tanner of Tanner & Hall, 237 South Brand boulevard, Buick dealers here, by Lin Howard, president of the big Buick distributing organization of Los Angeles.

A survey of the show and individual showings that were made by various makers coincident with the big motor debut there showed that thirty-one manufacturers were exhibiting four-wheel brake equipment at a slightly additional cost.

"Of the cars shown here," young Howard's letter stated, "about half of them used mechanical brake equipment and the others hydraulic brakes. The four-wheel brake is now considered 'the' brake, and the coming battle will be four-wheel brake against four-wheel brake."

The last statement is very significant of the feeling throughout the trade, Mr. Tanner says. Howard's letter goes on to state that "balloon tires" have proven to be very popular. There were perhaps thirty or thirty-five of the different exhibits that had at least one car equipped with balloon tires. But so far, only three or four of them furnish balloon tires as standard equipment. The different tire companies have not as yet decided on any standard tire sizes, and for this reason it is impossible still to make them standard equipment on all the different makes of cars. Inside of a year or so, the balloon tire should reach a stage of perfection."

Walks Miles in Trap He Set for Bears

MARYSVILLE, Jan. 26.—Struggling for hours over miles of rocky mountainside, Charles McGraw, Woodleaf bear hunter, reached camp near Woodleaf with the jaws of a steel bear trap embedded in the calf of his right leg.

Total of 1923 Sales Amounted to 248,200

California motor vehicle dealers sold only 1,792 short of the estimated quarter of a million mark in sales of automobiles and trucks in 1923.

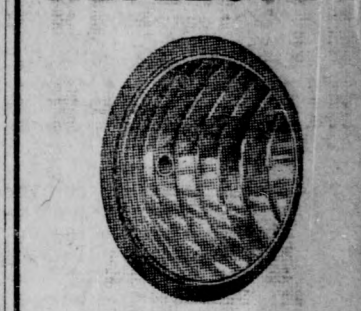

The aggregate of Motor Registration News monthly figures show a total of 248,208 for 1923 as against 18,569 in 1922, a gain of 79,011, or 48 per cent.

Passenger car registrations aggregated 224,253, as compared with 150,623 in 1922, an increase of 73,625, or 48 per cent.

Truck registrations totaled 29,955 as against 18,569 in 1922, a gain of 5,384, or 28 per cent.

Ranks First By Comparison! The Nash Four Carriole

Examine this car thoroughly from tires to top! Study its points of superiority. You'll realize how impressively it stands out as the leader of its price class.

Start with the body. Mark its smart sweeping lines; its all-metal panel construction; its beautiful color combination.

Observe the smartly-fashioned trunk at the rear guarded by nickel bars.

Notice that the broad double-catch doors of the car are rendered weather-proof and air-tight by mohair storm strips lined with rubber tubing. Heavy coiled springs in the deep cushions provide unusual riding comfort. And the seating arrangement allows you plenty of room.

Frosted silver-finish fixtures and a score of convenient appointments reflect Nash thoughtfulness and good taste.

But of even greater appeal than the car's striking beauty is its smooth, responsive behavior. Under all road conditions it travels as briskly and as quietly as a car with more than four cylinders.

Once you've inspected and driven the Carriole you will favor it above all others in its field. Test it out today!

A. LEADING AS MARKET FOR CARS

ASSES New York in Numbers and Takes Leadership by Wide Margin

In the closing months of 1923 Los Angeles passed New York in the last year's race for national supremacy as a motor car market on a numerical standpoint and came America's automobile business leader by a big margin. With the opening of winter and only one month more of automobile selling left in 1923, Los Angeles county had a lead over the metropolitan district of 10,935 in new passenger car registrations, a score for the first eleven months of the year being 95,023 against 84,088.

At the end of August the metropolitan district led Los Angeles county by a score of 67,177 to 67,779 for the first eight months of 1923.

Led in September Los Angeles, however, took the lead from New York in September. With the coming of the fall months business began to fall off rapidly in the metropolitan district.

In September, however, Los Angeles was only a slight slump in the month of 8,082 to 5,983 in favor of the Angeleno metropolitan district.

During the next two months Los Angeles fairly ran away from New York with a registration tally of 9,682 to 6,373 in October and 10,181 to 4,555 in November.

20,985 New Vehicles. Total metropolitan district registrations in the low and medium priced lines in the first eleven months of 1923 were 76,200 as against 62,301 in 1922; and in the high priced class 7,888 as compared with 6,758 for the same period of the preceding year. This was a gain of about 20 per cent in each class.

During the first nine months of 1923 Los Angeles county gained 3,377 in new passenger car registrations, which was an increase of 80 per cent over 1922.

Medical Men Show Increase Last Year

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 26.—More applications for licenses to practice medicine in California were received by the state board of medical examiners during 1923 than in any preceding year, according to a statement made public today by C. B. Pinkham, secretary of the board.

Out of 910 applications, Pinkham reported 724 granted, bringing the total number of persons practicing medicine in the state to 7647.

Three licenses were revoked during the year and 41 transfers from other states were authorized, a secretary stated.

Fees collected by the medical board during the twelvemonth period aggregated $82,000, the statement said.

SOUTHLAND TRIO TO GIVE PROGRAM

Costume Recital Is Feature at Tuesday Afternoon Club Gathering

Because of the fact that there are five Tuesdays in January, the meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon club Tuesday at the clubhouse will include only a short club meeting at 2:30 o'clock and an entertainment program at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Daniel Campbell, club president, will be in charge of the meeting.

The program in the afternoon will be a costume recital by the Southland trio including Ruthellen Miller, soprano; Elsie Manion, violinist; and Ivy Mae Travis, pianist.

All three young women are talented in their line and come to the Glendale club with the highest recommendation. One critic has said of Miss Miller:

"She is a dramatic soprano and her exquisitely trained voice is remarkable for its wonderful timbre and emotional quality. Every time I have heard her sing I have felt like the famous character in Dickens who always 'went more' for her richness of tone, faultless diction and depth of feeling are a delight."

Miss Manion, violinist, is known as artist pupil and assistant teacher to Gregor Charniavsky, noted Russian violinist. One report of her says:

"Miss Manion is one of the specially talented pupils of Gregor Charniavsky, whose ability as a violinist has aroused the admiration of such great artists as Mischa Elman and Jan Kubelik, for both of whom she has played in private auditions.

The program will be:

- PART ONE
- 1—Se sa ran rose.....Arditi Trio
 - 2—Andante from Spanish Symphony.....Lalo Elsie Manion
 - 3—O. Quand je dors.....Lizt Ruthellen Miller
 - 4—(a) The Water Lily.....Kathryn Lockhart Manning (b) Elf and Fairy.....Densmore Ruthellen Miller
 - 5—(a) The Rosary (Arranged by Kriesler).....Nevin (b) Indian Snake Dance.....Burlleigh Elsie Manion
 - 6—Swanee River and Humoresque.....Trio

Imperial Linen of Austria Is Auctioned

VIENNA, Jan. 26.—Linen of the ex-imperial Austrian household was sold at an auction in the rooms of the former imperial Vienna castle, the Hofburg, here recently.

While the Austrian government confiscated all linen of minor quality to be used at state hospitals, orphanages, asylums and sanatoriums, hundreds of the most exquisite table covers and bed sheets were exhibited for sale. In anticipation of the purchasers' interest in genuine imperial linen, with the imperial crown on it, prices were exceedingly high. Double bed sheets, with a four-embroidery and big hand-made imperial initials, formerly used for the kaiser's personal guests, realized fifty-two billion marks, or about $15; simpler ones ranged from between $5 and $10. About a dozen damask table covers of unusually large size cost about $230 apiece.

Bidders were standing in line at the entrance of the castle several hours before the sale began.

EXPERTS DIVIDED ON GOOD OF GOLF

It Involves Performance, Is Opinion Expressed by English Doctor

LONDON, Jan. 26.—It will be a deep joy for the long handicap men among golfers to know that, on medical authority, the wilder the game they play the greater the physical benefit they derive from the exercise.

English golfers were saddened a few weeks ago by some remarks of Dr. Harold Dearden, who declared that of all the games for tired nerves golf is the worst.

"It involves the performance," said Dr. Dearden, "in sequence, of a number of highly co-ordinated actions. The whole affair is commonly a grim one, carried out in a sort of constriction of the nervous system inimical to rest. It is this damping up of emotion due to unsuccessful striving that is so productive of nervous unrest."

But there is another side to the story. This is the way in which it is stated by one of Britain's chief medical authorities: "The answer to Dr. Dearden is," he says, "that practical experience is worth all the theory in the world. The amount of good done by golf is obvious to everybody."

"Thousands upon thousands of people have had their health restored by playing golf and keep their health by continuing to play."

"Golf has no bad effect upon the nervous system, but has a very good effect as a rule. The expert player, curious as it may seem, gets more benefit from the game than the short handicap man. The good player becomes so mechanical that playing the stroke does not give him so much exercise as the duffer extracts from the game, and the amount of exercise is important."

"From this point of view it is much better to duff your drive, or play your irons too heavily, or get into a bunker (taking two or three to get out) than to get off the tee with a clean hit and an effortless swing."

"Of course I do not say that the foolzler gets as much exhilaration as does the clean hitter."

BURBANK CORPORATION TO REBUILD FACTORY

Clark Turner Piston Co. Will Erect $200,000 Plant Within 45 Days

The Clark-Turner Piston company, a million dollar corporation doing business all over the world, has bought two and a half acres on the west side of Olive avenue, just opposite the Fawkes industrial tract, and will rebuild at once its $200,000 plant recently destroyed by fire in Los Angeles.

This report is confirmed by S. S. Turner, of the corporation, who states that the plant will be up and in operation within forty-five days, and will have an initial payroll of fifty men. Mr. Turner has recently purchased a large tract of land in Orange Cove, near Roscoe, and will build a large residence there.

The Clark-Turner Piston company manufactures pistons for 1500 different varieties of engines, according to Mr. Turner, ranging from the lowliest of the popular cars to the mighty $10,000 monarchs of the road. As the company manufactures its pistons complete, the Burbank plant will include a foundry, melting furnaces and casting department.

Select H. S. Play Cast. Following are the casts for the three one-act plays to be given by the high school students the night of February 1, at the Burbank High school auditorium:

WURZEL-FLUMMERY Robert Crawshaw, M. P. (member of parliament)—Henry Holbrook. Margaret Crawshaw, his wife—Frances Kelly. Viola Crawshaw, his daughter—Doris Hutcherson. Richard Meriton, M. P.—Donald Newcomer. Denis Clifton, a lawyer—Vance Rogers.

THE COMING OF FAIR ANNIE Lady Gregor—Doris Adele Pomeroy. Lord Love Gregor—Lemuel Manning. Donald, an old servant to the Gregory family—Joseph Spencer. Fair Annie—Laura Redden.

THE WONDER HAT Harlequin—Don Ruff. Pierrot—Oliver Kline. Funchinello—Charles Weber. Columbine—Jean Rennie.

The furniture for the castle scene is now being turned in the wood-working department of the high school, while the interior settings are being produced in the art department. It is announced by Mrs. Drury that the matinee production will be given the afternoon of January 31, due to the basketball game Friday afternoon.

Rebekahs Install. On Thursday night, January 24, the local Rebekah lodge installed the recently elected officers for 1924. Installation was in charge of Mrs. Bertha Collins and her staff, from San Fernando. Following is the list of new officers:

Demand Great Here for Radio Batteries

Willard radio batteries are now being sold by all leading radio houses throughout the country, according to H. M. Kuhn, of the E. W. Cizek Auto Electric company. In Glendale the Willard radio batteries are handled by the Brunswick shop, the Newton Electric company and the Glendale Radio Service. The Cizek company is distributor for this territory.

Mr. Kuhn stated that the demand is so great for these batteries that the factory at Cleveland is now taking orders only on a sixty day shipment basis. His company foresees this situation early enough to secure large enough supply to tide Glendale over through the shortage, he said.

Liners No Safer Than Titanic, Says Expert

LONDON, Jan. 26.—According to E. W. Blockside, English marine engineering authority, present-day liners are no better equipped for the saving of lives in case of wreck than in the days of the Titanic.

Liners themselves, however, said Blockside, in an address to the Institute of Marine Engineers, are becoming more and more like lifeboats themselves, due to improved construction.

Blockside conceded that with the tremendous advance in wireless telegraphy and wireless telephony and its increased use in large ships they were in a better position than at the time of the loss of the Titanic, and forecasted that within a few years wireless would supersede even lighthouses.

Thirty years ago two-thirds of the population of this country lived in the rural districts, today less than one-half reside outside of cities.

EAGLE ROCK CITY WILL SHARE TOURIST TRAFFIC

Flood of Money to Flow into Eagle Rock Stores During Season

As the winter tourist season reaches its height, Eagle Rock is seen to have its full share. Estimates place the number of transients in this community at the present time at over 400. These visitors all spend money in Eagle Rock, thereby enriching the community.

But more important than the money they spend, it is felt, is the favorable impression of the city they receive, and Mrs. A. G. Reilly, president of the Women's Twentieth Century club, points out that this organization is anxious to do everything in its power to make more pleasant the stay of all tourists in the community.

Donnell G. Montgomery, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, reports that this organization likewise is making every effort to be of service to the transients and will welcome their visits cheerfully, answering questions and furnishing pamphlets, magazines and other literature and information regarding Eagle Rock and the Southwest in general.

Many Visitors Here. E. P. Colburn and family have returned to their 212 Acacia avenue home, after an absence of several months, during which time Miss Ruth Colburn and her father made their home in Los Angeles while Mrs. Colburn visited in the east.

Mrs. G. W. Nations and little daughter, Miss Esther Lee Nations, from Illinois, are spending the winter with Mrs. L. C. Smith, 4950 Maywood avenue. Miss Hopie Nations, a senior at the Franklin High school, is expected to graduate in the spring.

Mrs. Dunn, mother of Mrs. H. G. Warren of this community, is spending the winter in a bungalow on East Colorado boulevard. With her is Mrs. Reed, a close friend. Both are from Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Harper, who recently moved to San Fernando, have returned to Eagle Rock.

Building activities in Eagle Rock continue very brisk, with members of bungalow courts, apartments and duplexes under way. Mrs. Shoemaker of 2267 Los Flores drive is building one of the latter on the front of her property on El Rio avenue, a part of which she will occupy when completed.

Dr. C. B. Dirks plans to build an apartment house on the rear of his lot just north of the Public Library, on Colorado boulevard.

Auto Camp Grounds Shown In Booklet

When the call of the open road sounds from the north in the spring Southern California motorists and visiting tourists will find that their desires have been anticipated by the Automobile Club of Southern California. Just from the press is a new booklet of nearly 100 pages entitled "Camp Grounds of California and Along the Pacific Highway From San Diego to Vancouver, B. C."

The new compendium of useful information to autoists was compiled by the outing bureau of the auto club, which has to do with camping, fishing, hunting, swimming, yachting and golfing information. The booklet is pocket size, contains an index and maps of the entire Pacific coast, distances to different points, and a list of camp grounds in each city along the route touched, in addition to equipment of camp grounds listed and prices quoted.

There is also a fund of useful information for the amateur camper, a few rules for sportsmen, warnings about camp fires, and a quantity of useful hints.

That this booklet will find a welcome among Southern California motorists is indicated by the fact that more than 4,000,000 persons visited the nineteen national forests during 1923. Three-fourths of this number made the trip in private automobiles. These figures are exclusive of persons visiting the national parks.

FIGURES REVEAL FORD PRODUCTION

1923 Total Output Amounted to 2,200,682 Vehicles of All Kinds

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 26.—Final production figures for 1923 just made public by the Ford Motor Company, show a total of 2,200,682 Ford products for the year.

Of this number 2,090,959 represents Ford cars and trucks alone. The output of Fordson tractors total 101,898 while 7,825 Lincoln cars were manufactured, establishing a new yearly record.

Every branch of the Ford output showed a decided increase over 1922. In the case of Ford cars and trucks this amounted to 789,626 or an increase of more than 50%. Reflecting greater demand in both agricultural and industrial fields, Fordson tractors production rose from 68,985 in 1922 to 101,898 for the year just ended.

Demand for Lincoln cars has likewise continued to grow, 1923 bringing an increase of 2,553 over 1922 when 5,378 were reported.

In spite of the substantial increase in output during the past year Ford officials say it was impossible to meet dealers' requirements during the Spring and Summer months when orders for 350,000 Ford cars and trucks could not be filled.

Reports now being received during 1923.

Lip Reading Classes Night School Course

"We are very fortunate in having so capable a person as Miss Mary E. Rice of Los Angeles as the head of our lip reading class," said A. L. Ferguson, in charge of the Glendale Union Evening High school, yesterday. "Associated with the Los Angeles school of lip reading, she has had much experience in class work, and under her direction the class is making good progress."

"It is not claimed that lip reading will take the place of good ears, but we do claim that it is the best substitute for good ears and that very much good is derived from it, especially for those who are becoming hard of hearing. The regular text book is used and the course of study is the same as that pursued by students taking private lessons. The feeling of fellowship among the pupils is strong, and the afternoons are thoroughly enjoyed."

Visitors are always welcomed to the classes, and the members of the class plan to give an open program soon, to which their friends will be invited.

In a recent year in England and Wales, deaths, due to common diseases, were as follows: Influenza, 10,665 persons; tuberculosis, 42,545; diphtheria, 5,666; measles, 7,190; pneumonia, 37,049 and cancer, 43,687.

from Ford branches and Dealers indicate that the demand for 1924 will be even greater than it was during 1923.

CHEVROLET FUEL MISER, IS CLAIM

Economy Shown on Hard Trip from Omaha to Coast, Owner Declares

Consistent performance, economy in fuel and easy riding, three essential requisites for a pleasant trip, are to be found in the Chevrolet, says A. C. Hartman, 600-B East Palmer avenue. Mr. Hartman recently described to C. L. Smith, local Chevrolet distributor at Orange and Colorado streets, a trip of his when he drove a 1923 sedan from Omaha through the Rocky Mountains, Estes and Yellowstone parks, and around the northern route to California.

"I had 50 miles of low speed work, with 1000 of low and second, said Mr. Hartman. "I carried 1300 pounds, including the passengers. The trip occupied six weeks and I covered 4660 miles. From the time I left Omaha until I arrived in Glendale the only trouble I experienced was two punctures. I averaged 22 and 2-10 miles per gallon of gas on the entire trip, which includes the fuel for the stove and lantern."

"A most remarkable feature as I see it is that during the whole trip, which was nearly five thousand miles in length, I put water in the radiator only twice, at Greeley, Colorado, and San Francisco. The motor did not heat and functioned perfectly during the entire time."

The 1924 Model Studebaker Special Six Five-Passenger Sedan $2310 f. o. b. Glendale

The reason for the remarkable value of the Special-Six can be summed up in the statement that it would be impossible to offer it at its present low price were it not built complete in Studebaker factories.

In performance, in appearance, in riding comfort, in economy of operation—from every angle from which you may judge motor car values, the Special-Six Sedan stands out strikingly as an unusual car at an unusually low price.

And when you are weighing motor car values in your mind—when you are comparing the Studebaker with any other car—just consider the simple, uncolored story of Studebaker's sales success, as shown by automobile license figures throughout the country, and ask yourself, "Why?"

Auto Makers Predict Total of 25,000,000 Declares
Walter P. Chrysler

The automobile industry knows Walter P. Chrysler, the head of the Maxwell-Chalmers organization, and the maker of the new Chrysler car, as one of the keenest analysts and closest students of automotive affairs today, and a letter received from Chrysler by Lyman P. Clark of the Glendale Motor Car Co., Maxwell and Chalmers dealers, 124 West Colorado street, touches on the fact that the motor industry today is nearing the 14,000,000 mark.

Chrysler's figures show that California has one automobile for every 3.8 people, Iowa has a 4.8 ratio, Nebraska has one for every 5.1, on through the list of states from New York's 10.4 to Alabama's ratio of 26.1.

"Manufacturers know that the average for the United States is an automobile for every 8.6 people, and they know, too, that 23 of the 48 states have reached this average and that, therefore, so they argue, there are 25 states which have yet to absorb even the average number of cars."

"Some manufacturers have estimated that it is only a matter of time before there will be 25,000,000 registered cars."

With each part numbered so it could be fitted into place, the steamship "William McKinnon" was sent from England by parcel post, taken through 500 miles of jungle and delivered to Lake Nyanza, Central Africa.

California Second In Registration List

While prospects are bright for California's leading the United States in the number of new passenger car registrations with approximately a quarter of a million licenses issued, it would seem that the Golden State would have to be content with being runner-up to New York in total motor vehicles registered.

In predicting that second honors will fall to California in the race with Pennsylvania and Ohio, Will H. Marsh, superintendent of the state motor vehicle department, says that New York had already passed the 1,200,000 mark and that California with 1,093,660 registrations up to January 5 can hardly hope to lead the nation for 1923.

More than 900 vehicles are being licensed daily, however, and it is conceded that this state will reach the 1,100,000 mark and probably pass it before the records are closed on January 31, the end of the registration year. Until that date, California totals cannot be accurately compiled. The records on December 31 showed: Automobiles, 1,050,265; trucks, 43,395; motorcycles, 14,654; trailers, 5,871; transfers, 424,397; chauffeurs' licenses, 97,793.

Marsh announced that it is virtually impossible to compare registrations in Pennsylvania and Ohio with California records at the present time, since the registration year in the former states closes December 31, while the books in California are open for another month.

AID CLIENTS TO SECURE LICENSES

K. B. K. Service Station Has Opened Department to Assist Customers

Seven hundred Glendale motorists have availed themselves of the special service offered by the K. B. K. Service station, 1223 East Broadway, and have secured 1924 licenses through that company. The live wires at the K. B. K. realized how much of an effort it requires to go down to Los Angeles for a license, and informed their customers that they would get the licenses for them, making no charge whatever for the service, beyond the $3 payment for each license. A special bookkeeping system has been necessary to take care of the licenses, but the company benefited by making many new friends in this way.

The K. B. K. Service station was established a year ago. It occupies a corner lot, with 160 foot frontage on Broadway and 100 feet on Adams. In this splendid location the business has grown remarkably. Besides the gasoline, oil, accessories and tire and repair departments, which are conducted by the original company, concessions have been leased on the lot for lubrication, washing and polishing, battery and ignition, repairing, brake lining and vulcanizing, cigars and lunch stand. This makes about as complete service for car and driver as one can imagine.

The company is owned by Clarence Kresger of Glendale, Harry Banks, who owns a home at 1253 Oak Ridge, and by silent partners whose names are represented by the last "K" in the company's name.

Reckless Driving Is Increased Past Year

Speeding and reckless driving were responsible for the arrest of 31,557 California motorists during 1923, and constituted approximately 77 per cent of all violations of the motor vehicle laws during that period. This is shown in comparative figures made public today by Will H. Marsh, chief of the California division of motor vehicles.

Although there were 2255 less arrests during the year for all violations than during 1922, the figures show an increase of more than 2 per cent in violations of the speed laws.

Exclusive of the city of San Francisco, Marsh's report shows a total of 49,345 arrests for motor vehicle law violations. If statistics were available for San Francisco, Marsh estimated the grand total would reach 60,000.

Approximately 35 per cent of all arrests or 17,185, were reported from Los Angeles. In that city alone, during the year, 6700 speeders were caught, while 3894 paid the penalty for reckless driving. The Los Angeles traffic squad arrested 2056 persons for improperly displaying license plates, as compared to 411 arrests for the balance of the state.

During the year the licenses of 193 persons were revoked. Of these forty-nine lost their licenses for driving while intoxicated and seventy-one for speeding. Licenses suspended during the year amounted to 324.

Owners of Rent Cars Must Pay Weight Fee

Owners of rent cars will be required to pay the weight fees based on commercial schedules in addition to the regular registration fee before 1924 licenses for such cars can be issued. Will H. Marsh, chief of the Division of Motor Vehicles, so announced here today, declaring that provisions of the new motor vehicle act put such cars in the commercial class.

Rent cars were designated by Marsh as being those kept in garages throughout the state, to be rented out driverless to persons desirous of using a car for short trips. Several hundred cars, most of which are in the larger cities of the state, are affected by this ruling.

Owners of such cars will be required to furnish a weight certificate with application for registration showing the unladen weight and the kind of tires.

Registration of all types of motor vehicles began on Monday, January 14.

Saw teeth can be tempered with electricity and the method is said by the inventor to be a great saver of time.

OLDS SIX SHOWS METTLE ON TRIP

Battles Way Through Heavy Mud on Journey from Iowa to Coast

When one of the new Oldsmobile six touring cars drove into the C. H. Hunter Olds agency at 208 West Broadway recently, he thought it was "Cannon-ball" Baker making another cross-country run, states Mr. Hunter.

The man at the wheel of the car, which was covered so thickly with mud that the color was hidden, was H. A. Alspach, of Ottumwa, Iowa. "When I decided to drive to California, what to drive, was the next question," said Mr. Alspach. "After considerable investigating, I chose the new Oldsmobile six, on account of the wonderful performance ascertained to it in the recent New York-Los Angeles trip in high gear. Starting from Ottumwa in rainy weather, which later turned to sleet and snow, I plowed through mud, which at times reached the running boards, to Kansas City. From there I turned west to El Paso, where I struck the Santa Fe Trail.

"I averaged better than 25 miles to the gallon of gas, and on fair roads made 30 miles. The oil consumption was practically nil. The only trouble I experienced during the whole trip was a tube that parted at the splice. I have owned some twenty cars, among them being several what I call high priced, but the new Olds six was the best of the lot."

Kathleen Campbell Wins College Honors

The fulfillment of the splendid achievements prophesied for her has been commenced by Miss Kathleen Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Campbell, well known residents of this city. Mrs. Campbell being president of the Tuesday Afternoon club.

Word has just been received that she won second place in the freshmen declamation contest held recently at Pomona college, with her presentation of Kipling's "Three and an Extra." She was surpassed by only one student, Ellsworth Meyer, who gave Beveridge's "March of the Flag."

While attending the Glendale Union High school she made an enviable record in debating, and was the class representative at the oratorical contest.

Weight Certificate Required of Owners

Failure to produce a weight certificate when making application for 1924 license plates resulted in disappointment for more than 1,000 owners of commercial motor vehicles during the first week of the license renewal period which opened at all branches of the California Division of Motor Vehicles on January 14. This was announced by Will H. Marsh, chief of the division, today.

The Division of Motor Vehicles requires owners of cars used for commercial vehicles to secure from a public weigher a certificate showing the unladen weight of the vehicle equipped for service and kind of tires used. This certificate must be presented or mailed when application for renewal is made. In lieu of a certificate of weight, where no public scales are available, certification before a notary will be accepted by the department.

Many owners of such cars presented their old registration certificate and the necessary fees, Marsh said, but were subjected to delay and disappointment because no weight certificate was secured.

Commercial cars include trucks, taxis, delivery cars, rent cars or any other kind of a motor vehicle operated on the public highways for compensation or the transportation of property.

Section 77 of the motor vehicle act describes such vehicles as those "designed, used or maintained primarily for the transportation of passengers for hire or the transportation of property."

Art Department Has Display of Paintings

An exhibition of water colors, many of which are very unusual and full of promise, has been received at the Glendale Union High school and is on display in room 133. They are the work of advanced students in the University of California, southern branch, and were secured largely through the efforts of Miss C. Jeannette Abel, acting head of the art department.

Earl T. Brown, head of the science department, gave an interesting and instructive talk yesterday to the applied arts class on light and color. He illustrated his speech with a number of interesting experiments.

Number of species of the beetle is nearly 100,000, of which about 3400 have been found in the British Islands.

Girls' League Plans to Elect Officers

Now that the main student body election is a thing of the past, the next event of importance to the scholars at the Glendale Union High school is the election of officers for the Girls' League, which will be held on Monday, January 28.

The following candidates are in the field: president, Gwenllian Warner, and Emma Laura Cooper;

vice-president, Helen Anderson, Florence McLaughlin and Emily Torchia; secretary, Lenore Rose, Lucille Allen and Elsie Whitney; treasurer, Beth Hume Betty Baberry and Barbara Kranz.

Three push buttons, instead of a wheel, govern an electric motor in the stern, this motor turn controls a new type of rudder, the system furnishing an ingenious way to guide a motor yacht recently built.

Aid Clients to Secure Licenses

Seven hundred Glendale motorists have availed themselves of the special service offered by the K. B. K. Service Station, 1223 East Broadway, and have secured 1924 licenses through that company. The live wires at the K. B. K. realized how much of an effort it requires to go down to Los Angeles for a license, and informed their customers that they would get the licenses for them, making no charge whatever for the service, beyond the $3 payment for each license. A special bookkeeping system has been necessary to take care of the licenses, but the company benefited by making many new friends in this way.

The K. B. K. Service Station was established a year ago. It occupies a corner lot, with 160 foot frontage on Broadway and 100 feet on Adams. In this splendid location the business has grown remarkably. Besides the gasoline, oil, accessories and tire and repair departments, which are conducted by the original company, concessions have been leased on the lot for lubrication, washing and polishing, battery and ignition, repairing, brake lining and vulcanizing, cigars and lunch stand. This makes about as complete service for car and driver as one can imagine.

The company is owned by Clarence Kresger of Glendale, Harry Banks, who owns a home at 1253 Oak Ridge, and by silent partners whose names are represented by the last "K" in the company's name.

24-Hour Service For Glendaleans

A 24-hour service is offered Glendale motorists by the Sunset Motor Works, West Broadway at Pacific, which, under the ownership and personal management of G. F. Lombard, who purchased it from E. L. Gibbs nine weeks ago, is now winning a place in the hearts of automobile owners of this vicinity.

Mr. Lombard came to Glendale from the Central West, where for twenty-seven years he had been working in machine and automobile shops. His knowledge of the work is comprehensive, and with the best equipped shop in town at his command, he is able to accomplish anything in the way of repairs or new parts right under his own roof, with the exception, he said, of painting and upholstery.

Mr. Lombard has a splendid crew of workmen, and is keeping busy. The all night and day service is proving particularly popular, and motorists are advised to keep in mind the fact that no matter where they have auto trouble, or what time in the wee small hours it occurs, the crew of experts at the Sunset Motor works, with their efficient tooling car, are at your service.

The Sunset Motor Works is certified dealer in Ford and Chevrolet parts, and keeps a considerable stock for both makes of cars.

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population

TODAY: Regarding Filipino Citizenship.

By JOHN F. STONE
For International News Service, HONOLULU, Hawaii, Jan. 26.—The United States, though "subjects" of the United States, hold citizenship along with Japanese and Chinese?

Attorney General John A. Matthews, of the Territory of Hawaii, holds, in a formal opinion delivered to the Governor, that they are ineligible for citizenship; that the decision of the United States Supreme Court denying citizenship to Japanese in the case of Takao Ozawa case similarly affects all Filipinos, except such as are entitled to citizenship privileges through serving in the United States army or navy.

The importance of the opinion of Hawaii is twofold: The Territory has a large and growing Filipino population, and a large number of Filipinos here hold citizenship papers granted by the local United States court, under the late Judge Horace W. Vaughan.

While the Attorney General's opinion does not, of course, act to nullify any citizenship papers issued it will in all probability lead to a test case in the local courts to determine whether or not these persons are entitled to vote. The Federal courts have held uniformly that "native inhabitants of the Philippine Islands did not become citizens of the United States by virtue of the cessation of the islands by means of the Treaty of Paris," but there has been conflict among the adjudicated cases as to whether or not a Filipino may become such a citizen, and until the Ozawa decision the precedents were about equally divided.

Judge C. F. Clemens, former judge of the United States Court in Hawaii, held that, by virtue of his act of Congress of June 29, 1906, Filipinos were eligible for citizenship. This act authorized the naturalization of all persons who swore permanent allegiance to the United States and became residents of any State or organized territory of the United States, on certain conditions.

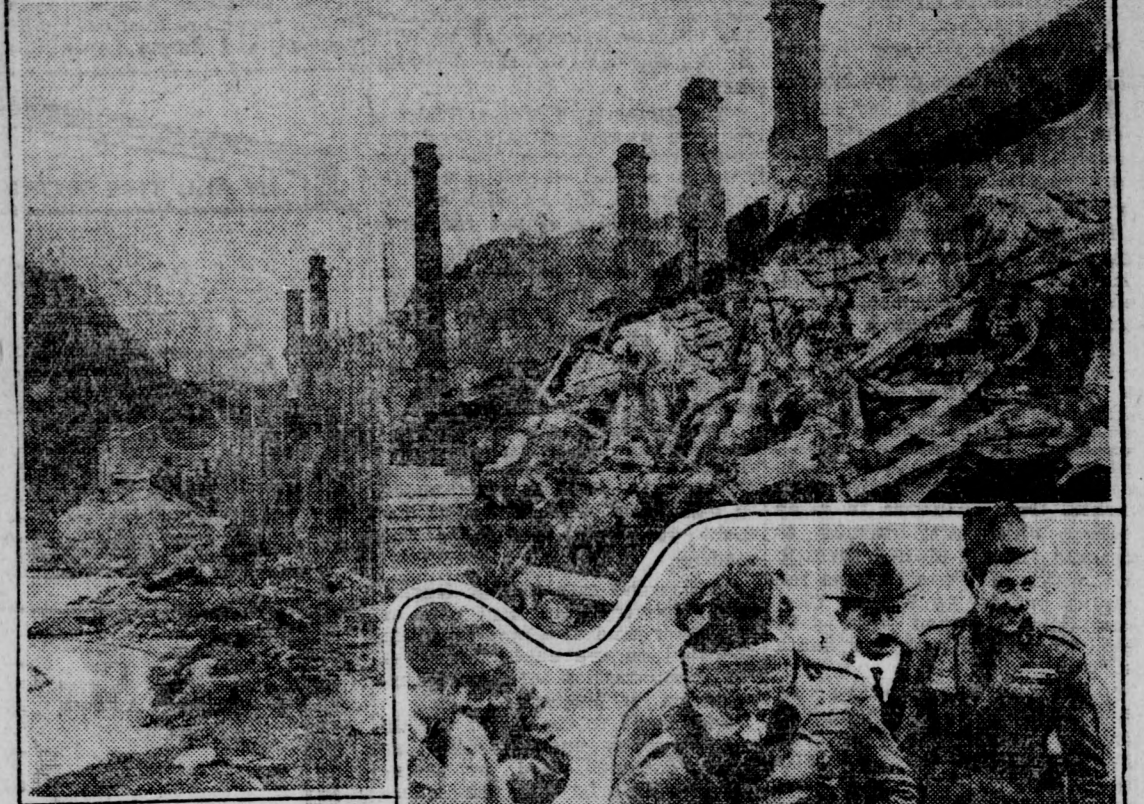

Judge Vaughan later overruled Judge Clemens in what Attorney General Matthews calls a "well considered decision." Then came the act of Congress of July 19, 1919, concerning the naturalization of "any person of foreign birth" who served in the forces of the United States during the great war. Judge Vaughan held that this act made it mandatory upon him to naturalize Japanese, Chinese, Koreans and others excluded from citizenship by the restrictions imposed by Congress in 1870 and 1878, which limited naturalization to "free white persons, to sons of African descent, and to persons of African descent." No other Federal court agreed with Judge Vaughan, and since his death has come down the Ozawa decision, which, the Attorney General believes, determines the matter once and for all.

"It appears," says the opinion, that the Ozawa case has not only determined specifically that the Japanese are not "white persons," but that it has also determined that, although some Filipinos may now be naturalized, Congress has shown any purpose to depart from the racial restrictions of Section 2169 of the Revised Statutes. "Filipino is no more a white person than is a Japanese."

Mrs. Jones was exceedingly annoyed by the repeated calls of a certain negro on her dusky cook. "You told me," she protested to the cook, after one especially long call, "that you had no man friends. But this fellow is in the kitchen all of the time." "The nigger one wasn't offended. 'Dat nigger, he hain't no friend mine," she declared scornfully. "Him, he's jes my 'usban'."

RIVER TIBER OVERFLOWS BANKS NEAR ROME

Heavy Destruction Follows Floods That Ravage Italian Territory

A scene of wreckage caused by the overflow of the River Tiber, near Rome, and (inset) D'Annunzio, Italy's poet hero, at the scene of the disaster.

Ruins and wreckage were spread over the province of D'Annunzio, Italy's poet hero, at the scene of the disaster. Thousands were forced to flee and millions of dollars' worth of damage caused. Relief agencies were prompt in sending succor, and prominent Italians came from all over the country to lend their aid. Among these was Gabriel D'Annunzio, poet-hero.

BRITAIN HOLDING OWN IN AIRPLANE BUILDING, SAYS AIR OFFICIAL

"As far as lighter-than-air construction is concerned, America is ahead of England, because two years ago we scrapped all our lighter-than-air ships for reasons of economy and are only now about to revive lighter-than-air," says the Duke of Sutherland, under-secretary in the British war ministry, now in the U. S. "On the other hand, I believe that as regards the airplanes we are holding our own very well with every country in the world except that, numerically, we are inferior to the French," he added.

Discussing the British numerical inferiority to the French, the duke said that Great Britain has undertaken a program that will, he believes, so materially increase the power of the British flying forces as to greatly decrease, if not eliminate, the French preponderance. This program, he said, calls for fifty-two squadrons.

"With regard to civil aviation, I believe we are ahead of America, partly, no doubt, on account of the subsidies the British government pays to operating firms. Rightly or wrongly, we believe in this policy for the purpose of fostering the growth of civil aviation at the start. Ultimately, when it becomes firmly established, it should become self-supporting. In view of this we have just inaugurated a large air transport company with £1,000,000 capital to be raised privately, combining all air lines from London to the continent of Europe, drawing a subsidy of £1,000,000 from the government, spread by installments over the next ten years, by which time we believe the company should be self-supporting. Sir Eric Geddes has agreed to be chairman of this new company.

ement does not own a single lighter-than-air carrier."

WHO'S WHO

HON. ARTHUR HENDERSON

The name of the Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, a member of Great Britain's war cabinet, is mentioned in connection with the discussion of a successor to Stanley Baldwin as premier. The Baldwin government suffered defeat in the election, failing to win a majority of seats over the combined opposition.

Henderson, a Laborite, was born in Glasgow, in 1863. He served his apprenticeship as a molder in Newcastle, Eng. He has held a number of positions in connection with his Society and the trade union movement. For some time he served as a member of the Newcastle city council and Darlington borough council. In 1903 he served as mayor of Newcastle.

He also served as magistrate of the county of Durham. He is known as an abstainer. He was chairman of the parliamentary labor party from 1903-10, and from 1914 to 1917. He was also secretary of the labor party. He was a member of the railway royal commission in 1911 and has also served on numerous government and departmental committees. He was president of the board of education, 1915-16.

In the latter year he served as paymaster general with labor adviser to the government. In 1917 he went to Russia as a member of the government mission to that country.

Total area of the Persian Gulf is about 75,000 square miles.

POEMS That LIVE

OF CLEMENTINA

In Clementina's artless mien Lucilla asks me what I see,
And are the roses of sixteen Enough for me?

Lucilla asks, if that be all,
Have I not culled as sweet before:
I still deplore.

I now behold another scene,
Where Pleasure beams with Heaven's own light,
More pure, more constant, more serene,
And not less bright.

Faith, on whose breast the Loves repose, Whose chain of flowers no force can sever,
And Modesty, when she goes,
Is gone forever.
—Walter Savage Landor.

SHADOWS

They seemed, to those who saw them meet,
The casual friends of every day;
Her smile was undisturbed and sweet,
His courtesy was free and gay.

But yet if one of the other's name
In some unguarded moment heard,
The heart you thought so calm and tame
Would struggle like a captured bird.

And letters of mere formal phrase
Were blisters with repeated tears—
And this was not the work of days,
But had gone on for years and years!

Alas, that love was not too strong For maiden shame and manly pride!
Alas, that they delay'd so long
The goal of mutual bliss beside!

Yet what no chance could then reveal,
And neither would be first to own,
Let fate and courage now conceal,
When truth could bring remorse alone.
—Lord Houghton.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

UNCLE WIGGILY AND NANNIE'S NECKLACE
he began to pet the Bob Cat with some loose acorns. On his nose, ears and eyes the acorns hit the Bob Cat.

"Ouchie! Wowhie! Wow!" howled the bad chap, and away he ran, leaving Uncle Wiggily safe.

"My goodness!" said the rabbit uncle to himself. "I hope the Fuzzy Fox or the Bob Cat hasn't gotten in while Mr. and Mrs. Wagtail are out to nibble Nannie's and Billie's ears! I had better hurry there and see what is wrong."

The crying sound became louder the nearer Uncle Wiggily hopped toward the goat house, and at last, as he went in, he saw Nannie sitting in a chair and weeping big, salty tears that splashed down on the oilcloth in the kitchen.

But as Mrs. Wagtail, the lady goat, was there, Uncle Wiggily knew it could not have been the Fox or Bob Cat which had made Nannie cry.

"What's the trouble?" asked the bunny gentleman.

"Oh, it's Nannie's necklace," bleated Mrs. Wagtail.

"Her necklace?" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "Do you mean she has lost it?"

"Well," said Uncle Wiggily, "if Nannie never had a necklace, I don't see how she can cry because she has lost it. I don't understand."

"I'm crying—oh, dear, boo hoo! I'm crying because I want a necklace of beads to wear around my neck, and I haven't got one," sobbed Nannie. "I mean I haven't got a necklace," she went on, for Uncle Wiggily could see that the little goat girl had a neck all right.

"What is this all about?" asked the bunny.

"Oh, Nannie expected a bead necklace for Christmas, and she didn't get it," cried Mrs. Wagtail. "She shouldn't cry about it, though, for Santa Claus brought her ever so many other nice things."

"But, I—now I just wanted a necklace!" sobbed Nannie. "She's been going on this way since New Year's," sighed Mrs. Wagtail. "I'm sure I don't know what to do with her. Mr. Wagtail doesn't feel that he can afford to buy her a necklace now, with tin cans so high and paste costing so much."

"Hum! Um! I see," murmured Uncle Wiggily. Then, as he happened to think of something, he added: "Dry your tears, Nannie, and wait here for me."

"Oh, are you going to bring me back a necklace," bleated the little goat girl, smiling through the salt water on her face.

"Maybe! We'll see," was all the rabbit would promise. He twinkled his pink nose, blinked one eye at Mrs. Wagtail, friendly like and mysterious, and away he hopped over the fields and through the woods.

Now, as it happened, on his way to the goat house that day, Uncle Wiggily had passed the tree in which lived Johnnie and Billie Bushytail, the squirrel boys. And as Uncle Wiggily was passing he heard Mrs. Bushytail chatter: "I don't see what we are going to do with all these acorns."

"Have you so many acorns that you don't know what to do with them?" inquired Uncle Wiggily.

"Yes," answered the squirrel lady, "we have—a bushel of them. In the fall Mr. Bushytail, not knowing hickorynuts and beechnuts and chestnuts were going to be so plentiful, laid in a lot like acorns. We squirrels don't like worms if we can get anything else. And, now that we have better nuts, we don't need the acorns."

Uncle Wiggily thought of this when Nannie cried for a necklace. "I'll make her a lovely necklace!" he thought. "I'll look just like beads," said Uncle Wiggily to himself.

Quickly he hopped to the squirrel tree.

"I'll take some of those acorns you want to throw away," he told Mrs. Bushytail, who gave him as many as he wanted. Uncle Wiggily found a strong sharp needle from the pine tree, and, with a slender branch for a string, he threaded the acorns into a necklace.

It was almost finished when, as Uncle Wiggily was sitting on a flat stump, stringing the acorns, along came the Bob Cat.

"I want ears! I want ears!" howled the bad chap.

"Try a few acorns first," laughed Uncle Wiggily. With that

Thank you very much, Uncle Wiggily!

Then the bunny gentleman took the acorn necklace to Nannie, who liked it very much and didn't cry any more.

"Thank you very much, Uncle Wiggily," she bleated.

"You are very welcome," answered the bunny. "Making your necklace gave me a jolly adventure!"

EDNA KENT FORBES

There is another bromide I should have spoken of yesterday that is as fallacious as the "he who eats so much that it makes him thin" theory. It is this: "The food you have no appetite for does you no good and, therefore, you should not eat unless you have an appetite."

The fallacy of this statement is shown by the thousands who take the milk cure and gain marvelously on it. The milk is taken in varying quantities every hour or every half hour, sometimes as high as six quarts a day (with milk at 20 C. per ounce, that means 3,840 C. per day). With that stuffing there is no particular appetite, but still results are gained.

Sometimes, when ordinary procedures fail, the milk cure is the best thing for those who should gain. It is best to go to some institution that gives the cure, for there you will be forced to get the absolute rest and quiet which you should have with it. But if that is not possible it can be taken at home, better, of course, under the supervision of your physician.

There are two or three good text books on the subject. I will give you a list of them if you will write me, sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

One can lose as well as gain on the milk cure. It all depends upon the amount of milk that is taken. Those who want to gain have to take the milk in sufficient quantities to be in excess of the needs, and those who want to lose have to take it in quantities less than their needs.

Many thin people have no appetite because they have not been getting sufficient vitamins, which are necessary for normal functioning, not only of the intestinal tract, but all of the organs. The vitamins of fresh vegetables and fruit are especially important to stimulate the appetite.

Many, in an effort to gain, will try to increase the fats only in their meals, knowing that fats are higher in fattening value than any other foods. This often defeats the purpose, because it upsets the digestion. The thing to do is to increase the green vegetables and fruit if you have not been having enough of them, and to increase other foods in proportion—whole wheat bread and butter, nuts, milk, egg yolks, cream and potatoes.

There is another bromide that has helped the thin to stay thin. "It isn't what you eat but what you assimilate that counts." That is true, but it is also true that the chief reason the majority of thin persons get that way is not assimilating food is because not enough food is being eaten to be assimilated.

It may be possible that you belong to the very few thin who eat too much. That is easily determined by counting your calories. I told you yesterday the normal adult should have from 5 to 20 calories per pound of normal weight daily. If you find by this reckoning that you have been taking too many calories, then cut them down and see how it works. But you must remember that you need more calories, very many more, than normal, if you want to gain.

If you do not or cannot take the milk cure, add milk in liberal amounts to your diet. I know of many who have put on the wanted pounds by that simple, simple plan. If you cannot get fresh milk, you can get the powdered milk and make it up as you like it. Those milk powders are splendid. Get the whole milk powder and make it up as directed, or you can use malted milk, or natural or artificially made buttermilk.

I have seen wonderful gains by the use of raw eggs also. (One egg is equivalent to 80 C.) They can be taken either in fruit juice or milk, in the form of egg-nogs or beaten up with cream. If you do not care for them in these forms, take them raw. Begin with one after every meal, or after the juice of an orange. Then after you have become accustomed to them make it two after each meal. Swallow them down whole—that is the best way.

Two eggs, 160 C., plus the juice of an orange, say 50 C., taken three times a day would add more than 600 C. a day to your menu. Five hundred C. is equivalent to one-eighth of a pound of fat. In six eggs you would get 120 C. of protein, so eat less meat and fish while you are doing this.

You have been advised never to eat unless you had an appetite and could enjoy your food, and to avoid eating as a mere duty. You must forget that advice. Eat as well as you can, whether you like it or not, and DO eat as a matter of duty, for it is your duty to get yourself in the best physical condition. Once the food is in your system, whether you like it or not, a large part of it will be assimilated. Perhaps not so well, nor so readily, for we do know that the enjoyment of food adds to the efficiency of the digestive juices.

However, you will find as your stomach is stretched to care for more food, that you will begin to care for it, too. Eating more, or less, is largely a matter of habit. Those overweight are in the habit of eating too much, and you underweighters are in the habit of eating too little. So—EAT.

Helium Particles Explode Against Screen

A visualization of helium particles as expressed by G. F. Morrell, English scientific artist.

By CLARK KINNAIRD

Look at this picture carefully. It is one of the most interesting ever made. It visualizes the explosion of atoms.

Since before the day of Socrates, the great thinkers of ancient times, it has been a doctrine that the physical universe (or, as sometimes taught the whole universe, both physical and mental) is composed of simple, indivisible and minute particles or atoms. An atom, according to atomic theory is the smallest particle of an element which can exist either alone or in combination with similar particles of the same or a different element.

Now each atom is held to be a universe in itself.

In this picture, prepared by G. F. Morrell, an English scientific artist, helium particles are shown bombarding a screen of zinc-sulphide. Each atom, which other-

Dinner Stories

A woman raising funds for the starving Russians visited a cabin in the Zarks. She told of the sufferings of the people, but the old mountaineer seemed unmoved, Capper's Weekly says.

"They are even eating the bark of the trees," she stated impressively.

"Wall, I don't reckon the trees are worth much over in that country now," he remarked casually.

Almost in despair the woman tried once more. "Many of the people are killing their dogs and using them for food."

"Saryann, Saryann, bring the sock," he shouted sympathetically. "We can't let them dogs suffer."

A motorist meeting an old colored man trudging along the dusty road generously offered him a lift.

"No, sah, thank you, sah!" said the old man. "Ah reckon mah ol' laigs will take me 'long fast enough."

"Aren't afraid, are you, uncle? Have you ever been in an automobile?"

"Nevah but once, sah," was the reply, "and den Ah didn't let mah mah weight down."—Boston Transcript.

CURING FOOT TROUBLES

There are many kinds of foot troubles which cannot be cured at home, therefore you should be all the more particular about the care of your feet. If an ingrowing toenail begins to come you can cure it if you get at it soon enough. Otherwise it will become so bad that only the most skillful of chiropodists can do anything for you.

In the beginning of the trouble cut the affected toenail to a V shape with the V pointing inwards. This tends to pull the nail out of the flesh. Also be sure to wear broad toe shoes. Any one of the man—scientific lasts that are on the market will allow the large toe to point straight ahead as you walk. The pointed shoe that pushes the big toe in towards the centre of the foot is certain to press down on the toenail and to drive it still deeper into the flesh. Always cut the other toenails straight across and keep them fairly short. They should be trimmed at least once a week.

Another trouble which you cannot cure yourself is a bunion. If a bunion threatens you can in the beginning of the trouble help to great deal by choosing broad-toe shoes of the hygienic kind designed above. Such shoes always have moderately low heels. They must have, because in any trouble connected with the feet the weight of the body must be kept off the toes as much as possible. The weight must come on the heel and the ball of the foot as nature intended it should. The bunion can be helped by massaging with the hands, and by working the toe up and down and from one side to the other to keep that joint flexible.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

MOTHER LOVE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I'm 18 years old and with 1½-year-old boy. Do you think he loves me and she is jealous or what?

I am in doubt what to do, and so please advise me. My friend and I are angry now because he went out with some fellows and drank wine and was drunk for the first time in ten months.

LOVESOME RUTH.

The boy may love you in his way, but this kind of love never brings happiness. He does not keep his word to you, enjoys going off with "the boys" more than spending an evening with you. Kisses your friend and drinks. The combination does not recommend him in the least. I do not believe your girl friend is jealous of you. Probably she wants you to know the kind of man you have given your heart to. I would advise you to keep her friendship and let the young man go. Forget about him as quickly as possible and make up your mind that life holds more for you than marriage to a man who has not the character to make you a happy wife.

THEY LOVE SAME BOY

Dear Mrs. Thompson:—We are two girls in love with the same boy. He is very popular at school and has always gone with different girls. Sometimes he takes one of us to a party and at other times he takes the other. He goes with one or two other girls, too. How can we tell which of the two of us he likes better?

MARY AND CARRIE.

Don't try to see which of you the boy likes better. He is not seriously in love with anyone since he has so many girls. He regards all of you as girl friends and not as sweethearts. Since he shows no preference, he probably feels none.

FOR FATHER'S COUGH

January is usually one of the coldest months, and brings its share of coughs, colds and hoarseness. Take FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND at the first sign of a cough or cold, as it loosens the phlegm and quickly brings relief to the inflamed membranes of the throat. "Your HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND has done wonders for my father, who had an awful cough. He is feeling fine now," writes Nicola Gonzalez, Cuero, Texas, Glendale Pharmacy, 638 East Broadway; Hub Pharmacy, Glendale and Colorado; Acacia Pharmacy, 922 South Glendale avenue.—Advertisement.

Both animal and plant life have contributed to the production of petroleum, it is thought.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Would you or would you not give up the friendship of these two friends? One is a boy to whom I have been engaged. He says he loves me, but he goes with other fellows and tells me I should be ready when he comes back in a half hour. Then he stays three or four hours. He tried to kiss my girl friend and she told me about it when I came back, but not in front of the

It happened in a movie. She was small, young and cute. The film had been about a girl who had left home and gone astray.

I could not help seeing her sob. I was old and rather fatherly. "I want to go home," she whimpered.

"Where do you live?" said I fatherly.

"In San Francisco," she whined. And we were in New York!

Radio Movies Coming Soon, Says Scientist Who Stakes Reputation on 'Television'

By LUTHER A. HUSTON
For The International News Service.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—Ten years from now, perhaps years before that, people may sit in a hall in London and watch the inauguration of a new president in Washington, or folks in Washington or New York may assemble and witness on the motion picture screen the coronation of an English king simultaneously with the progress of the ceremony.

That is just one of the wonders of television which Dr. Fournier D'Albe, noted British scientist and inventor, is willing to stake his professional reputation will be as common in the next decade as broadcasting by wireless has become in the present day. Television, he predicts, will make it possible to display on a screen thousands of miles away events that happen in any part of the globe.

Whole World Before Us
"Within five to ten years from now," Dr. D'Albe declared, "it is highly probable that we shall be able to sit in a hall in London and actually watch the Derby or the varsity boat race, or a naval review or a prize fight in America; or, for that matter, a battle. I mean watch a moving picture of any of these things on the screen at the moment they are happening."

"Then, perhaps a little later, will come exploration pictures. Explorers will carry television cameras with them. They will climb Mount Everest or penetrate to the north pole or stalk big game in Central Africa, or examine the floor of the ocean in submarines, and we—sitting in ordinary picture theatres hundreds or perhaps thousands of miles away—will accompany them step by step so far as vision goes."

Blind Read Through Ears
Dr. D'Albe, who is the inventor of the optophone, which enables the blind to read through their ears, and of the tonoscope, which renders speech legible to the deaf, is convinced that television will be accomplished during 1924. Early developments may be crude, he admits, but the fact of television—which means seeing by wireless—will be established.

"As we know that wireless waves can be relayed almost indefinitely, I see no reason why in ten years' time we should not be able to see what is happening on the other side of the globe," Dr. D'Albe continued. "It is only a matter of effort in research, and if the public interest is there, the effort will be there."

The advent of television has been brought appreciably nearer, according to Dr. D'Albe, by the progress made in the development of wireless receiving sets. The chief aspect of the problem, he asserted, is not the sending, but the receiving of the wireless waves necessary to instantaneous photographic reproduction of distant events. Dr. D'Albe estimates that it is necessary to send 200,000 wireless signals per second in order to reproduce a good wireless picture. "The trouble begins," he said, "when you try to disentangle these signals as they pour in at the receiving end."

Simplifying Methods
"Many methods have been devised, but up till quite recently all were clumsy or costly. Simplification there must be, and sim-

DAYS OF '49 SURPASSED BY AUTOS

Famous Rush of Pioneers Is Insignificant Beside Motor Flood

California's famous gold rush in the days of '49, famed in song and story, was not in the running with the motor vehicle rush of 1924, according to information received by the Automobile Club of Southern California. The covered wagon trains, the pack saddle hikers, and the wind jammers sailing into San Francisco harbor from all parts of the world during the two years of treasure hunting frenzy, brought approximately 70,000 into the borders of the state. This sudden increasing of new population at the time was unprecedented in the world's history. Never before had there been such a rush of humanity inspired by a single purpose to any one locality, and never before were the rewards of the more fortunate of the treasure seekers so generous. The thousands of Argonauts were rewarded with tens of millions in gold.

The present year will mark the seventy-fifth anniversary of the exciting days of '49. Without such a great expectation of sudden riches, and traveling in comparative luxury, the rush to California in motor vehicles alone in 1924 will make the world's record of three-quarters of a century ago sink into insignificance. It is now predicted that next July there will arrive within the borders of California 35,000 motor cars carrying 120,000 persons, which is twice the estimated number of the entire gold rush arrivals.

Figures for July
The mid-summer month is selected for comparison as it is expected to be one of the banner months of the year. Last July approximately 25,000 cars came into the state and indications are that 35,000 will be a conservative estimate for next July.

A large proportion of the coming motorists are in modern covered wagons which are making California, and particularly southern California, the end of the trail. The occupants will expect to make their homes here. Thousands of mining may not attract them, but the inspiration of the Argonauts of old will be theirs and they will be seeking their fortunes here.

Records in southern California last year indicate they will not be disappointed. The single crop of gold in 1849 has been amplified into scores of wealth producing activities. Although California still leads in the production of gold, the value of this precious metal is only one-fourth of the alfalfa crop. The mines in their peak day never produced the million dollars a day that now flows from the oil wells. Never did the gold crop in a single year reach what the citrus crop alone brings to southern California annually. The output each year of southern California manufacturers is greater than all the gold mined in the state since it was first discovered.

Treasure Seekers
These modern treasure-seekers will find a score of activities richer in reward than gold mining. All may be pursued without hardship and under conditions unequalled for pleasure and profit anywhere in the world.

Interesting and dramatic as were the days of '49 it is reasonable to expect that the days of '24 will be far more pleasurable in California and yield greater material substances and happiness than did the famous epoch that gave California the name "The Golden State."

Divining Rod Poor Witness for Owner

HANFORD, Jan. 26.—A divining rod sold by its owner, Charles Sharp, to possess the power to locate precious metal, lost a case for the possessor in Justice McClean's court when it failed to function to the satisfaction of the attorneys and audience present. Sharp had accused Charles Shively, who made his home with him, of taking two gold nuggets valued at $50 and said he had tested him with the divining rod to see that he had the gold.

The case was thrown out of court when the divining rod failed to locate two $5 gold pieces hidden under the plaintiff's hat, and a $20 gold piece held in the hand of one of the spectators.

A variety of paw-paw which grows in South America is cooked with sugar and lemon before eating, its leaves are used instead of soap, and its juice preserves meat.

Remember, every successive picture has to be completed in one-twentieth of a second. This means that the synchronization of sender and receiver must be perfect. If the feeder, or tracer, at one end is a thousandth of a second out in following the movements at the other end the consequences to the picture are fatal. Despite the difficulties presented in working out so elaborate a problem, Dr. D'Albe is certain it will be accomplished within the next few months. He refused to predict that he would be the one to do it, declaring that "there are many competitors, and the race is keen."

TEL. RULES FOR RIGHT OF WAY

State Vehicle Act Defines Autoists' Rights at Street Crossings

Street intersection accidents are becoming so common that it appears to investigators many drivers do not clearly understand the right of way rule laid down in the California Vehicle Act of 1923. This reads as follows:

"A vehicle entering an intersection of the public highways at a lawful speed shall have the right of way over a vehicle approaching from its left, unless such vehicle approaching from the left shall have entered first into such intersection at a lawful speed, in which event the vehicle on the left shall have the right of way."

Entering an intersection is crossing the property line prolonged across the street. The motorist on the right has the right of way when he enters the intersection at the same time as the motorist on the left. However, the motorist on the left has the right of way when he enters the intersection before the motorist on the right.

A motorist about to enter an intersection first should glance to his left and, if any other vehicle has entered the intersection from the left, this latter vehicle should be allowed to proceed.

Traffic Blockades
Traffic blockades may be reduced if the motorist, who reaches an intersection and observes that vehicles from the right and left already are passing through, will refrain temporarily from going ahead. In fact, he has no right to proceed into the intersection and cause a blockade of traffic.

One important condition in the right of way rule is that any motorist who at any time enters an intersection in excess of the lawful speed forfeits any right of way that he otherwise might have had. This provision compels every motorist to observe the speed regulations before he can claim any right of way at street intersection.

Vehicles entering a public highway from a private drive or road must yield the right of way to all vehicles approaching on the public highway. Drivers generally have recognized the value of this rule, as private drives are often so narrow and hidden by hedges and trees that the driver on the public highway is unable to perceive a vehicle entering.

Police and Fire Autos
Another provision that must be noted by drivers is to the effect that police and fire department vehicles shall have the right of way over all other vehicles. Every motorist upon hearing the siren of an approaching police or fire department vehicle immediately should drive to a position as near as possible and parallel to the right-hand curb of the street and remain there unless otherwise directed by an officer until the police or fire department apparatus has passed.

These interpretations of the California vehicle act are given by the legal department of the Automobile Club of Southern California, which organization is campaigning to make 1924 a minimum accident year. Casualty investigations have shown the larger part of the accident toll could be averted if drivers obeyed the law and used reasonable diligence in driving safely.

COSTS OF FOOD, BUILDING DOWN

That Is State Purchasing Agent's Prediction
for 1924

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 26.—Lower prices for building materials during 1924 and a downward tendency in the cost of foodstuffs, was predicted today by State Purchasing Agent W. G. McMillin in his annual report. "A decline in wages of laborers is virtually certain," said McMillin, which will reduce the cost of manufactured goods in which the element of labor is a vital factor.

"Cost of supplies for state institutions during 1923, was $67,090 lower than for the same institutions in 1922, despite an increase of state wards, McMillin declared.

Other Comparisons
"In 1922," said the state purchasing agent, "our purchases for this purpose totaled $1,364,344. In 1923, similar expenditures aggregated only $1,297,254, although we were feeding and clothing many more inmates. This clearly demonstrates that prices, especially on foodstuffs, have dropped sharply."

An influential factor in this reduction of state expenses, said McMillin, is the policy of growing on state farms much of the produce used in state institutions.

Groceries for state domiciles during 1923 cost $259,374.66; produce, beans, etc., $130,516; meats and provisions, $585,811; flour, cereals, etc., $166,140 and grains, $155,504.

Ireland likes American automobiles better than those made in England, and dealers in the Free State are seeking to buy direct from makers of this country rather than through British agents.

JAPAN'S ROYALTY PLAN MARRIAGES

Four Children of Prince Kuni to Wed This Year at Simple Ceremonies

By DUKE N. PARRY

For International News Service.

TOKIO, Jan. 26.—With the announcement that the imperial wedding, long awaited by Tokio, will be solemnized at the age-old Imperial Palace at the end of this month, Tokio's people take a great deal of interest in the fact that not only will Princess Nagako, eldest daughter of Prince Kuni, be married this month to the future emperor of Japan, but that her two sisters and one of her brothers will also take upon themselves the responsibilities of marriage during the year.

Princess Nagako Kuni will become the Crown Princess of Japan during the last days of this month, probably on January 29. She will not be known as the Princess Regent, as was first predicted, it being presumed that her title will differ from that of her imperial husband, because in the Regent's case he exercises the powers of the Emperor through the Regency, while in the case of the imperial bride, she will not enjoy any of the privileges of the Empress of Japan. The Empress of Japan has been an active woman all her life and has spent virtually all of her time in the interest of her people.

Empress Active
Her Majesty has presided at Red Cross meetings and has been ever ready to respond to the calls of her people. The Empress will not ask the future Empress to handle any of the duties now devolving upon Her Majesty, and for that reason, it has been pointed out, it would be incorrect to call Princess Nagako the Princess Regent, as this would imply a different position from that which she will hold.

It has, of course, been well understood that the imperial wedding, scheduled first for November and to have cost hundreds of thousands of yen, will be as quiet as possible. It will be merely a civil ceremony, and the entertainment of diplomats and the announcement to the outside world that the future Emperor of Japan has taken for himself a bride will be withheld until the coming Autumn. This is, of course, because of the sad state of Tokio, and the people of this city as a result of the earthquake.

Four To Wed

The House of Kuni will be entirely shorn of young people before the year 1924 is over. Princess Nobuko, second daughter of Prince Kuni, and a most attractive Japanese maiden, has unofficially announced her engagement to the eldest son of Count Saneyoshi Sanjo, a chief laborer of the Grand Shrine at Ise, and Princess Tomoko, the third daughter, will marry Count Koen Jutan's son, of the Hongwanji Temple at Kyoto. All of these weddings will follow the more important wedding of the elder sister to the Prince Regent. The wedding of Prince Asakira Kuni, the heir to Prince Kuni, has also been announced for 1924.

The future Empress of Japan has always been the happiest member of the Kuni family, and when completed with her home, she has learned to play billiards, has enjoyed tennis with her sisters and brothers and has been inseparable from them. At practically all of the public functions in which Princess Nagako has had a part since the imperial engagement was announced, her sisters have appeared with her. All of these three Japanese princesses wear foreign clothes attractively and all express the keenest interest in foreign ideas and diversions.

Largest dock in the world is being constructed in England and when completed will have a water area 6,550 feet long and 75 feet wide, with an entrance lock 1,150 feet in length and 130 feet in width.

Shaw Says Business at Bottom of Our Troubles

LONDON, Jan. 26.—Practical business men are useless as governors, according to George Bernard Shaw, who admits he is now a sage.

"If you have to choose between the practical business man and a murderer—any sort of a criminal out of the nearest jail—to govern you, have the criminal, but don't have the practical business man," Shaw advised.

"Practical business men are to blame for all of our troubles."

Six Couples Married, One Divorce in Year

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 26.—Trinity county came nearer to solving the divorce problem during 1923 than any other California county, according to state records. It reported but one divorce during the year.

Despite the fact that only one matrimonial bark foundered, residents of the county were slow to embark on the lifelong journey, only 6 couples marrying during the year.

That a woman may enjoy the privilege of changing her mind, wrist watches now are made so that they can also be worn on the finger or hung from a ribbon around the neck.

Adopted Daughter Is Cut Off from Estate

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 26.—Because she was adopted by foster-parents at 3 years of age, Mrs. Stella May Haltermann, of Alturas, Modoc county, is not entitled to share in the estate of her father, according to a ruling of the Third District Court of Appeal.

The court also held that Mrs. Haltermann's children have no legal right to claim part of the estate.

FREIGHT RECORDS SHOW GROWTH OF CITY

U. S. REPORTS ON REVENUE OF CITIES

Statistics Are Gathered in Number of Communities in Many Sections

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—According to reports made to the department of commerce, the total revenues of the 261 cities having a population of over 30,000 in 1922, amounted to $51.81 per capita. The per capita expenses for maintenance and operation of the government and interest on debt was $41.42, and for permanent improvements, $15.95, making a total per capita expenditure of $57.38, or an excess of all costs over revenue of $5.56 per capita.

This indicates that the city revenues are sufficient to cover ordinary running expenses of the government, pay the interest on the public debt and a part of the cost of permanent improvements, the difference being met by the issuance of bonds. The payments from the proceeds of the sale of these bonds are reported as costs of government the year such payments are made; the taxes and other revenue collected to meet the principal and interest of such debt are recorded as a revenue the year collection is made.

Tells of Expenditures
The total cost of government in 1922 of the 261 cities of 30,000 population and over amounted to $2,222,566,519, or $57.38 per capita, based on a population of 500,000 and over.

1923 Products of Southland Plants Total Big Sum

Southern California industrial plants last year turned out more goods than did the entire state of Connecticut or the combined states of Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, according to Southern California Business, official magazine of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. The value of the output of Southern California was approximately $1,250,000,000; that of the three combined states, according to the last official census report, was $1,032,134,000.

The value of products for 1923 ran ahead of 1922 by about $3,200,000, and that increase alone is almost equal to three times the total amount of all manufactured goods for the year 1915. The value of goods manufactured in Southern California during the last twenty-four years follows:

Year	Amount
1900	$ 15,134,000
1905	52,000,000
1910	68,586,000
1915	108,458,000
1920	788,632,885
1921	800,926,641
1922	959,806,503
1923 (estmd)	1,250,000,000

The gain of 1923 over 1922 was approximately 33 per cent. If the same gain is made for 1924, the total for the year would be about $1,662,500,000, or almost equal to 1921 and 1922 combined.

Part of this large gain in value of manufactured goods is due to the addition of 700 new industries during the year.

INVESTMENT DATA BEING COMPILED

National Real Estate Board To Make Nation-Wide Bond Summary

Data that will give a nationwide summary of investment returns in the field of real estate mortgages and mortgage bonds as they are financing the development of American cities will be brought together through a questionnaire on real estate securities now being sent out by the mortgage and finance division of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

The inquiry will deal with the two prime requisites of any investment, safety and profit. It will draw from the experience of 4,000 specialists in real estate mortgage loans, as represented by their office records since 1900. And its findings are expected to reveal material of great significance not only to the great investment institutions throughout the country and to men interested in the financing of real estate transactions but to every person with savings to be conserved.

The study to ascertain the desirability of real estate securities as compared with other forms of investment is the opening step in a campaign undertaken as the central work of the division, to get before the investment public the facts as to mortgage securities, and thus to keep up the normal flow of investment money into the real estate field.

It is vital to general business enterprise that this normal flow be maintained and also increased as rapidly as consistent with conservative practice, a letter accompanying the questionnaire sent out

National Business Problems Will Be Given Review at C. of C. Regional Conference

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26.—A review of national business problems will be presented to the representatives of business during the big banquet at the first western regional conference of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. This will be held Tuesday, January 29.

The banquet is on the night of the opening day of the session and the principal speaker will be Julius H. Barnes, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, who as president also of the Barnes-Ames Grain Company of New York and Duluth and former president of the United States Grain Corporation, has acquired a knowledge of general business conditions possessed by few American men in business or public life. It is expected that Mr. Barnes' address will sound the keynote not only of the business men of the West, but those of the entire nation in their desire to bring about conditions that will enable business to function at its best.

The program for the banquet is under the direction of Arthur S. Bent of Los Angeles, chairman of the program committee and member of the Chamber's directorate. Paul Shoup, vice-president of the Southern Pacific and acting regional vice-president of the Chamber, will preside. John H. Fahey of Boston, prominent publisher and former president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, will also deliver an important message. Other speakers will include men of national renown in business and finance who are coming to the conference as members of Mr. Barnes' party.

Among those from Glendale who are planning to attend the first regional meeting of the division are: H. E. Hewitt, president of the Glendale Chamber and E. F. Sanders, secretary of the Glendale Chamber.

REALTY MEN WILL MEET JUNE 3-6

National Association Will Assemble at Capital For Convention

Washington, D. C. has been chosen as the place of holding the seventeenth annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards by action of the association's executive committee. The date of holding the meeting has been set as June 3-6 inclusive. The convention brings together approximately 4,000 persons representing every phase of interest concerned with real estate, and constitutes the culminating point of the year's activities for the 495 local real estate boards of the United States and Canada making up the Association.

It is expected to be one of the largest and most important convocations of business men to meet during the year.

List of Subjects
Home building, wholesale and efficient city development, the plotting of the industrial areas of cities, the financing of real estate development, the management of real property, the national farm land situation, the ethics involved in the relationships of real estate men to each other, to the clients and to the public will be some of the large matters in the organization of real estate as a business which will form the topics of the convention program.

Taxation reduction, and systematic tax adjustment toward more equitable distribution, which has become the central plank in the general platform of public policies advocated by the Association, is expected to be an important conference subject.

Annual conventions of the seven great divisions into which the association has resolved itself for detailed study of specialized business problems will be held in connection with the general meeting. Morning sessions will be given over to questions of public policy involving the interests of real estate as a whole and the discussion of matters of business organization of importance to the entire membership. Afternoon sessions will be given over to simultaneous sessions of the Divisions, each session becoming a conference of business specialists for the exchange of business experience and the development of general standards of business practice.

Extends Invitation
J. C. Weedon, president of the Washington Real Estate Board, has extended on behalf of the board its cordial and unanimous invitation to entertain the 1924 convention in the capital of the nation.

"Every member of this board," a letter to the association states, "will feel highly honored by your presence, and will do his utmost to insure the comfort and convenience of the national Realtors during their brief stay in Washington."

The convening of Realtors at Washington at this time will not only mean the setting forth of the Association's legislative policies from the stage of the national capital but, since Congress will still be in session, will mean the opportunity to have in the convention deliberations the participation of a great number of public leaders.

Colored Real Estate Dealers Have Board

Fifty-three colored real estate dealers, mostly residing in East Side district of the city of Los Angeles, have formed a real estate board. They sought several state officers in connection with their new organization.

"We propose to conduct our board along ethical lines," their leader informed national vice-president-elect C. C. Tatum. "It is our duty to organize the realty dealers of our race. We are glad to co-operate with you, and to have our brokers and salesmen operate on the same high plane as the local boards in the state are doing. One of our local realty dealers has attended two of your recent state conventions and brought home glowing accounts of how the realty dealers of the state are functioning through organization."

According to the local census of Los Angeles, there are 34,500 colored residents in that city. This is about 3 per cent of the population. It is said that the new board proposes to work with the city government in arriving at a proper solution of the housing problem in Los Angeles.

Building Industry Must Face Vital Problem of Price

Roger Babson makes this statement: "There are approximately 25,000,000 families in the United States. Of these less than 2,000,000 have incomes of more than $2,500 a year or more than $48 a week. On even the most liberal budget $50 a month rental is the highest which a family living on $2500 a year can afford to pay. The major part of the recent building boom, however, has been in houses which cost much more than that. At least 75 per cent of the 170,000 dwellings built during the past two years have cost over $8000, including the land. This means that three-quarters of the new houses built are within reach of only about 10 per cent of the prospective buyers and renters. Hence the main problem of the residential building industry today is a matter of price. For each 10 per cent that the cost of a building can be reduced, the field of prospective customers will be increased by 500,000 to 1,000,000 people.

"Eventually, building costs will decline under pressure of the law of supply and demand. Some weakening already is taking place. The difficulty from the standpoint of the builder is that price reduction and wage cuts come only after business has fallen off enough to force them."

Committee Will Urge Tax Burden Changes

The taxation committee of the California Real Estate Association appointed by President Henry P. Barbour is taking up the various problems pertaining to the equalization of taxation between real and personal property, a proposal which is being much agitated among realty men all over the United States.

The revelation that $54,000,000, or one-fifth of the entire wealth of the country, lies in tax-exempt securities, coupled with the fact that 85 per cent of all taxation is based on real property, has led to a ruffling of the calm. Many thousands whose possessions are in the form of houses and land feel there should be a readjustment placing the assessment burden more equally.

Board Makes Survey Of City's Conditions

A city-wide survey of housing, industrial and mercantile conditions is reported to the National Association of Real Estate Boards by the Dallas Real Estate Board. The proportion of vacancies in business and residential properties, the types of buildings available for different purposes, the sort of structures needed, available unimproved property and its possible utilization and investment returns for the various kinds of real property are facts covered in the survey. Facilitation of industrial development through making comprehensive information on real estate easy of access is one purpose of the survey. Possibility of giving clients exact information on improved and unimproved realty over the city as a basis for investment judgment is the central advantage of the compilation.

Picayune is a name derived from the Carib language and was used in Louisiana for a coin worth six and a quarter cents.

CHARGES OF PAST YEAR TOTALED

Reach More Than $800,000 Is Report; Proof of Big Development Here

By H. THOMPSON RICH
Of The Evening News Staff.
Charges totaling over $800,000 were collected by the four railroads serving Glendale, on freight entering this city during 1923, nearly double the business done by these lines during 1922.

These charges represent many millions of dollars' worth of materials that poured into Glendale during the year just past, for the upbuilding of the city, and contributed largely to the $10,000,000 building record that caused the entire Southwest to focus its attention on this fast growing municipality.

S. P. Takes Lead
The Southern Pacific was the leader in freight hauling into Glendale during 1923, the books of C. L. Thedaker, local agent, showing approximately $400,000 in charges collected, as compared with $238,000 in 1922.

Next came the Union Pacific, with freight revenues of $364,446 derived from this city during the year just past, reports A. J. Vail, local agent, as compared with $192,182 in 1922.

The Pacific Electric, reports H. L. Legrand, Glendale agent, did $29,091 in freight business during 1923, and $10,917 during 1922. And the Glendale & Montrose line derived revenues of $8491 last year from its freight business, reports Preston L. Hatch, general manager, as contrasted with $5583 in 1922.

1924 Starts Well
Of the shipments brought into Glendale by the above lines during the past year, the books of each company show that the preponderant goods were destined for the building trades, lumber and plumbing materials predominating.

All agree that January 1924 has started off with a rush that indicates a far greater volume of freight business during the present year than ever before—another clear indication that Glendale is to enjoy the greatest building year in its history.

Coolidge And Mellon Agree With Realtors

President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon's action in advocating the limitation or elimination of tax-exempt securities is referred to as in complete harmony with the movement now being taken up by realtors. It is not claimed that personal property should bear an exact half of the total, even though the belief is expressed that they nearly balance in the general run of communities.

A substantial redistribution of the burden is desired, one which, according to realty leaders, will more nearly correspond with the comparative value of holdings.

The California committee entering on the endeavor toward tax equalization is composed of Fred E. Reed, Oakland, chairman; W. I. Hollingsworth, Frank Ryan, Los Angeles; John G. Munholland, Long Beach; Freeman H. Bloodgood, Santa Ana; F. Bruce Maidman, Oakland; Hayden F. Jones, Fresno; Ben Leonard, Sacramento; Percy H. Goodwin, San Diego; Charles F. Crothers, San Jose; Albert E. Kern, Fred A. Magee, San Francisco.

to convince the conservative that Glendale will pile up over $15-000,000 in building permits during 1924, a glimpse at the record for January, now approaching the million mark, is one of them. Another indication is the large number of purchases of valuable busi-

Seek Apartment Site
The Val Lester "Own Your Own" apartment people are now looking for a site on which to erect a six-story apartment building. A Los Angeles capitalist last week bought the corner of East Broadway and Jackson avenue.
A Hollywood investor this week bought the southwest corner of Harvard and Orange streets. A Chicago financier recently invested in a valuable piece of South Brand

the large property movements that have taken place within the past

With projects under way for at least one more six-story building, two large hotels, several apartments and three buildings and a $1,000,000 theatre, it is evident to shrewd investors that Glendale, even more than Long Beach and Hollywood, is going to be the one best building bet in Southern California during 1924.

U. S. Reports on City Revenue in Past Year

show the highest per capita cost, $66.88. The next highest per capita, $64.29, is shown for cities with a population of 300,000 to 500,000. The per capita cost of cities from 100,000 to 300,000 amounted to $47.71. The per capita cost of cities from 50,000 to 100,000 was $44.94. The cost in the small cities, having a population of 30,000 to 50,000, shows the lowest per capita, $44.38.

Comparable statistics are shown for 199 of the principal cities, and in these the per capita cost has increased from $34.68 in 1918 to $58.07 in 1922.

An analysis of the costs of the city governments shows that the per capita cost for maintenance and operation of general departments was the principal item and amounted to $33.15, consisting of $2.94 for general government, $6.66 for protection to person and property, $3.25 for health and sanitation, $2.87 for highways,
$2.08 for charities and corrections, $12.50 for schools, $0.41 for libraries, $1.09 for recreation and $1.34 for miscellaneous purposes; for maintenance and operation of public service enterprises, such as water works, electric light plants, markets and similar enterprises, the per capita was $2.75; for interest on debt, $5.52 per capita; and the per capita cost of permanent improvements was $15.95, including $3.30 for public service enterprises.

Total of Revenues
The total revenue receipts for 1922 were $2,007,008,796, or $51.81 per capita, consisting of $34.54, general property taxes;
$1.06, special property taxes;
$0.11, poll taxes; $1.50, business and non business licenses; $2.66, special assessments for improvements; $0.34, fines and forfeits; $3.07, subventions, donations and pension assessments; $2.43, highway privileges; $1.34, earnings of general departments; and $4.76, earnings of public service enterprises.

In the 261 cities property taxes represented 68.7 per cent of the total revenues in 1922. The increase in the amount of property taxes collected for the 199 cities was 21.5 per cent from 1918 to 1922, and $2.1 per cent from 1918 to 1922. The per capita property taxes were $35.47 in 1922, $21.43 in 1918 and $18.87 in 1915.

From 1902 to 1919 the aggregate payments for the 145 cities, having 30,000 population in 1902, exceeded the revenues by an annual average of $3.35 per capita, but there has always been sufficient revenues to meet the expenses of operation and maintenance and interest charges.

Indebtedness, Valuations
The net indebtedness (funded and floating debt less sinking fund assets) of the 261 cities amounted to $3,618,967,272, or a per capita of $93.42. For the 199 cities included in the 1922, 1918 and 1915 reports the per capita

Edgmont Park Subdivision Offers Opportunity to Make Good Money On Investment

The first days of spring will soon be here, but ere they arrive dozens of home-lovers will have selected the location for their charming little future home in Edgmont Park, the subdivision that has been termed the "tract of opportunity."

Enthusiastic homelovers, eager to start on the road to independence, are daily calling at the tract and are either making their first payments on the lots desired or are paying for them outright.
They realize, after making a survey of the tract and of the country that surrounds it, that nowhere in Southern California is there more desirable location for home purposes than is Edgmont.
It has everything that one could desire—scenery, location accessibility, schools, along with all public utilities, such as water, gas, electricity, telephones, streets, sidewalks, walks, curbs, etc. Could more be desired?

Increasing Values
These buyers realize that where the improvements are put in immediately by the subdividers, there will be a general advancement of property values, which mean real-estate dollars in the pockets of those who buy early.

Another feature that is right now increasing the values of the lots in Edgmont is the wonderful building activity. Since the beginning of this tract seventy-five homes have been finished or are now under construction, with probably twenty-five more in course of planning. This activity is actually increasing the values of these lots and will continue to do so.

Population always brings property value increases. This tract has been open less than four months and already fifty or more families are located there. Others are moving in almost daily. With these families erecting their homes and taking possession of them the values of the lots cannot remain where they are.

Center of Highways Edgmont Park is located in the center of the greatest system of highways ever laid out in Southern California. This work was done by the Burbank Planning commission and the streets that are being installed are a marvel to the builders of this part of the country. On the south side of the tract is Olive avenue, a wonderful boulevard. On the north is Verdugo road, which is now being improved with 5 inches of concrete. A short distance east is Main street, where 6 inches of concrete is being laid. Buena Vista, running through the tract, debt was $95.61 for 1922, $79.51

for 1918 and $76.22 for 1915.
For the 261 cities, having over 30,000 population in 1922, the assessed valuation of property subject to ad valorem taxation for city purposes was $52,886-596,942 and the per capita levy for the city corporation, $35.85.

will soon be paved with 6 inches of concrete—and so it goes, all around Edgmont wonderful roads are being installed.

There is a reason for the building that is going on in Edgmont.
Through an arrangement with the Edgmont Lumber company, lumber for the homes, as well as the lots, is sold on the installment plan. The lots are sold for $75 down and $15 per month, while the initial payment for the lumber is $60, with $25 per month. This makes the down payment for the lot and house only $125, with a monthly payment of $40, most of which the buyer is "paying back to himself"—in other words, saving.

Values to Advance
The prices of lots in this tract cannot remain where they are.
Those in a position to know predict that they will double within the next twelve months. Edgemont lies on Olive avenue and is reached via Olive avenue, Burbank, and Pass avenue from the Cahuenga avenue end. Many of the lots are covered with alfalfa and walnuts—an income right at the start.

"The buyers are keeping us busy," said D. W. Hepburn, 203 West Broadway, Glendale, owners and subdividers of the tract.
There are no slow times at Edgemont. The music of the hammer and saw is heard on every hand and this means dollars in the pockets of early buyers. We delight in helping the "plunger."
Our desire is co-operation."

Data Being Compiled On Investment Bonds

jointly by H. U. Nelson, executive secretary of the national association, and by Hiram S. Cody, chairman of the mortgage and finance division of the association, points out.

Findings of the investigation will be placed before banks, real estate boards, chambers of commerce, insurance companies, estates, trust companies and the public generally.

Here are significant facts in regard to security and satisfactory interest return of mortgage investments as already ascertained by the investigations of the association's mortgage and finance division:

Twenty-eight Chicago mortgage bankers have loaned $729,000,000 on real estate mortgages without loss to any investor.

During the past two years forty-four of the great life insurance companies, whose assets represent a great aggregate of American savings, have increased the percentage of their mortgage investments. One company with an increase in assets of ten million has invested all the gain in first mortgage or improved real estate.

Real estate bonds are always at par, while figures compiled by Harold Almert, Chicago engineer, show that forty listed bond issues, comprising railroad, public utility and industrial bonds, have suffered an average decrease in value since 1903 of approximately 12 per cent.

A recent scientific survey of investments of 201 life insurance companies made by the National Association of Real Estate Boards shows that in the experience of these companies covering the whole investment field mortgages show an average gross rate of return of 6.1 per cent as compared with an average gross rate of only 4.6 per cent on stocks and bonds, a 25 per cent advantage in favor of mortgage investments.

The mortgage and finance division now has thirty separate committees actively at work on investigation of the facts in regard to specific problems of real estate finance.

Dates Selected For Big Orange Display

California's greatest midwinter event, the Fourteenth National Orange Show will be held in San Bernardino February 15-25. All indications point to the greatest citrus exposition in the history of the organization.

For many months the orange show officials headed by J. Del-Gentry, president, and General Manager R. H. Mack have been busy making plans for the forthcoming show. The result is that there will be more feature displays than ever before, there will be a greater automobile show and a greater industrial section, more new departments, more music, in fact it will easily surpass all previous shows.

Due to a demand for space for feature exhibits from many communities that previously have not exhibited at the show, it became necessary to enlarge the great fruit tent. It is announced that there will be seventeen feature displays.

The finest automobile show in the southland next to the Los Angeles show, is also assured. A new department that will be of interest to the fruit growers, is the department of citrus research and extension. Here will be shown latest methods of frost prevention, pest control, pruning methods will be demonstrated, nursery stock will be exhibited and there will be noted horticulture experts on hand who will give lectures on every phase of the citrus industry. Co-operating are the Departments of Agriculture at Washington and Berkeley, citrus experiment station, county horticultural commissioners and citrus experts.

Report to Legion on Character of Shows

A report on the character of the Clarence A. Wortham shows, which will exhibit in this city under the auspices of Glendale Post 127, American Legion, February 4 to 9, was given at the regular meeting of the Legion last night, by Commander Joseph A. Wilson, and W. D. Hammond, who paid a visit to the shows at Huntington Park as the guest of Ed Smithson, their Glendale representative.
They reported that the attractions were all of a very high character, no "paddle wheels" or other game of chance being running at the time they made their visit.

F. C. Butler was chosen as a member of the executive committee to succeed Dwight W. Stephenson, resigned.

Past Commander Chalmer D.
Day was chosen by State Commander James Collins as the installing officer for the ceremonies at Verdugo Hills post No. 288 at the Sparr Heights community house next Wednesday, when the officers of that newly-formed post will be inducted into office.

Photographic Service Is Aid to Dealers

A real estate photographic service is maintained by the Atlantic City Real Estate Board, a report to the National Association of Real Estate Boards states. The service enables realtors to use photographs in advertising at the minimum of expense and trouble.

At night, Processional, "O, Help Us Lord, Each Hour of Need;"
Magnificat (Smart); Nunc Dimitis (Russell); Introit, "We Walk by Faith and Not by Sight;" offertory, "We Give Thee But Thine Own" (Leipzig); Recessional, "How Beauteous Were the Marks Divine."

Silver Bells Feature of Musical Program

At the Glendale Presbyterian Church on Sunday night Edison Crosby, of Los Angeles, will render a number of selections on silver bells. These are of beautiful tones, and those who have not heard Mr. Crosby will be glad to learn that they will have an opportunity to enjoy his rare talent on Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock. His selections will be in addition to a splendidly arranged musical program of varied numbers.

National Board Plans Real Estate Record

Setting up the apparatus for a seismographic record of what is going on month by month in the business condition of the United States as reflected in the buying and selling of real estate, is the purpose of an investigation begun by the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Establishment of a zero point or norm for business activity as measured for and by real estate activity is the first purpose of the investigation. To get this quantitative index the association is asking the co-operation of county recorders in 100 representative cities.

Records of the number of real estate transfers and conveyances made each month as shown by the official records will be examined over a period of years extending back to 1910. A digest of these numbers will establish as accurate a base as can be found from which to measure the degree of fluctuation above or below the normal of the business activity of any period or any year as shown in real estate movement.

The investigation will help to give real estate and all the large branches of American business affected by it or affecting it a solid factual groundwork for estimating business trend, officers of the association point out.

Data on numbers of transfers and conveyances made will be correlated with building statistics and other available information to get at as full information as possible of market conditions and indications in each period surveyed by the association.

Judge of Cat Show Leaves for New York

Miss Ethel R. B. Champion, cat fancier and widely known judge, who came to Glendale recently to preside over the annual show given by the Glendale Cat club, left this noon for her home in New York.

During her visit in Glendale
Miss Champion has been entertained at the J. G. Grim, F. S.
Card and E. O. Holbrook homes and has enjoyed trips to various interesting places in Southern California.

Yesterday in company with Mrs.
Holbrook and Mrs. C. Turner, she motored to Hollywood and while there enjoyed a visit with Mrs. Edgar Saltus.

In addition to being a cat fancier and judge and owner of twenty prize winning cats, Miss Champion raises Pomeranian dogs and has eighteen fine animals in her kennels.

Deviltry of Boys Cost Chicago Big Yearly Sum

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—Chicago is paying $75,000 a year to prove the old adage that "Boys will be boys."

The Commissioner of Gas and Electricity just has completed a report showing it costs the city that much to replace street-light globes smashed by boys for sheer devilment.

The commissioner was quite vexed about it. His report said such knavery was "unnecessary."

Thieves Take Narcotics and Money in Robbery of Tujunga Store

A robbery, believed to have been committed by dope addicts, was reported Thursday morning by Mr. Stover, proprietor of the Tujunga Drug store, who stated that his store had been broken into and goods and cash to the amount of $275 carried away. Narcotics valued by the proprietor at $150 were taken and $125 in cash was not overlooked by the thieves, who left the balance of the stock unmolested. The robbery took place, according to Mr. Stover, some time between the hours of midnight and 7 o'clock Thursday morning. Men were at work in a new building next to the drug store, which closes at 10 o'clock, but no disturbance was noted by these men, who quit work at midnight. The robbery was discovered at 7 o'clock Thursday morning when the store was opened. The sheriff's office in Los Angeles was notified.

Frank C. Scoville, who had served as cashier of the Tujunga Valley bank since that institution was founded two years ago, died at his home on Los Robles avenue Sunday morning. He had been in poor health for some time and resigned as cashier of the bank at the annual meeting a few days ago, announcing that he desired to take up work that would give him more time in the open air. Mr. Scoville had been active in community affairs ever since he and his family took up their residence in Tujunga four years ago and no one realized that his strength had failed to such a point and the news of his sudden death came as a shock to everyone.

With a party of friends, Mr. Scoville attended services at the Angelus Temple in Los Angeles. During the services he fainted and was carried to his machine and taken home. His strength was not equal to the task of rallying and he passed away Sunday. Funeral services were held at Pasadena, and were attended by many Tujunga and Sunland friends.

Letter of Condolence
Meeting in special session on Monday, the Tujunga Valley Realty board, of which Mr. Scoville was an active member, passed a resolution of condolence and sent the following letter to Mrs. Scoville:

Dear Madam: The Tujunga Valley Realty board, by resolution adopted at its regular meeting today, directed me to express to you its sincere sympathy, and to tell you in what warm personal esteem your husband was held by all its members.

As associate member of this organization and as cashier of the bank, as financial adviser without compensation to scores of people who were dependent upon his advice, as a citizen of the community and in every relation of life we have found him always faithful, always kindly and courteous under every condition, always ready to sacrifice his own time and strength and inclination for the service of others.

We join you in your sorrow today because we have lost a friend whom we all loved and because the community has lost one of its priceless possessions, an honest, upright, God-fearing gentleman.

Very sincerely,
Tujunga Valley Realty Board,
By Clarence C. Buck.

Shakespearean Actor
Plays Role of Serra

R. D. MacLean, who is the new Fray Junipero Serra in the Mission Play, now in the fourth week of its thirteenth season at the old San Gabriel playhouse, is fast becoming the popular idol of lovers of the drama.

Mr. MacLean is an old-time Shakespearean performer, and learned his profession under the tutelage of the greatest actors in the world, an actor of the "old school." For this reason he is finished and polished, as only the old-timers can appreciate.

Besides Mr. MacLean's extraordinary acting, there are a vast number of other features that are attracting attention—the Hopi Indian dancers, an unusual performance and the first time it ever has been seen on any stage; the extraordinary singers; the novelty dancing acts from old Spain and Mexico and many other different acts which are adding lustre to the Mission Play this season.

Another treat for the lover of the drama is lovely Patia Power's work as the sorrowing senora in the third act of the play. Patia Power has been handling the role of Senora Josefa Yorba for five years until she has "grown" into the part.

Matinees are given every afternoon, except Monday, and two nightly performances every week—Wednesday and Saturday. Special trains run from the Pacific Electric station to the Mission Play at every performance.

P.-T. A. Meeting Program to Be Furnished by Men of La Crescenta

Fathers' night at the Parent-Teachers Association is expected to bring out quite a collection of the Lordly Master of Creation, specially if they respond to the invitation written in verse by Mrs. Mary B. Darrow. These words are to be sung to the tune of "Wearing of the Green" by the mothers to show their appreciation of the effort made by father to be present.

"Now father dear and did ye hear
The news that's goin' round
They're going to give a party
In yer honor, I'll be bound

At 8 p. m. me darlin',
In the hall forinst the school,
'Tis a party they'll be givin'
Faith, fun, 'twill be the rule.

So put on yer best, me laddies,
Take yer colleen on yer arm.
Just watch the other daddies
And ye no will come to harm."

The fathers will, however, furnish the program and also help conduct the business meeting. It is expected to make it quite an occasion and hoped all daddies will be present.

Master Keith Young had the misfortune to fracture his forearm in the playgrounds of the school this week. While performing on the horizontal ladder Keith lost his hold, falling heavily on his arm, the fracture resulting. Mrs. Young was preparing Keith for entrance into Harvard military school where he was to have gone in a week or so.

Mrs. Hickey, real estate broker, is quite ill with a nervous breakdown while H. A. Bruce, another realtor, is ill with quinsy.

Majorie Brown who had a serious accident happen to her in Long Beach amusement zone, has so far recovered as to be back at school. Both of Majorie's feet were injured.

GAS TAX REVENUE

RENO, Nev., Jan. 26.—The Nevada 2-cent gasoline tax, which is similar to the California gasoline levy, yielded the state $60,000 during the eleven months of last year which it was in effect, according to figures announced by the secretary of state. Of this amount $45,000 will be distributed among the various counties for road-building.

EXCLUSIVE SITES
FOR GOOD HOMES

Woodbury Heights Tract Is Popular With Investors, Says T. W. Watson

Woodbury Heights continues to attract discriminating seekers after the best in highly restricted homesites, and in ever increasing numbers, report the T. W. Watson Company, subdividers, 708 East Broadway.

The reason for the popularity of this exclusive tract is its atmosphere of beauty and refinement, according to T. W. Watson, who states that it has many attractive features not to be found elsewhere and is bringing to Glendale many buyers from out of town points. Says Mr. Watson:

"While many of the sites are gone, there are a number of the very best still available, at original prices and ready for immediate building. We have been working at top speed on Woodbury Heights, and the result is that sidewalks, curbs, streets, gas, water and electricity are well under way.

Investment Opportunity.
"Anyone in the market for superior real estate at prices that compel action should see this tract before buying to build the ultimate home. Once you have seen it, you fall in love with it and will not be satisfied elsewhere.

This has been proved time and again by buyers here.
"For those who are seeking an investment, as well as for those who desire to build homes, Woodbury Heights offers a wonderful opportunity. With the high-class dwellings rising here, values are bound to go far up in the months to come."

Woodbury Heights lies along Verdugo road, between Lexington drive and Monterey road.

Verdugo Association
Reports Lights Stolen

Editor The Evening News.—The attention of residents along Canada boulevard, is called to the fact that miscreants have again broken and stolen lights from the electrolights along that thoroughfare. Twice in two weeks has the city renewed these lights and twice they have been broken or removed at the corners of Glorieta, Don Carlos and Del Valle avenues, since renewal; the large white globes having been wantonly smashed, some of the bulbs broken and at least three badly removed.

Inasmuch as prowlers have been observed in the upper end of the valley and have entered several residences during the darkened periods, this annoyance is serious and every one residing in the vicinity should remain on the alert in order that those guilty may be detected and properly dealt with.

Suspicion strongly points to wards certain boys; and in one instance, it has been reported that a resident in the valley was observed climbing one of the posts and removing a light bulb. These rumors are being run down and if proven will probably result in the arrest of the guilty persons. Parents of children committing mischief of this description are responsible under the law for the acts of their progeny.

A prompt report to the police or to the undersigned, of any obnoxious services which may assist in this investigation, will be appreciated. As the depredations must be stopped at once.

Yours very truly,
H. A. GRAVES,
President,
Verdugo Woodlands Improvement Association.

Landscape Architect
Completes Two Jobs

D. L. Hanson, Glendale landscape architect, 111 East Chestnut street, has completed two important jobs. One was the landscaping and installing a Thompson watering system on the grounds of the Burton apartments, northwest corner of Central and Park avenues. The place was decorated with a beautiful lawn and attractive arrangement of the shrubs. The Dr. Boyes job on Milford and Orange streets has also been completed by Mr. Hanson. The Paul apartment house in Hollywood, on Laurel drive, was landscaped by him, and he laid over 1800 feet of pipe for a sprinkling system.

Mr. Hanson came here from New York, where he lived on the Hudson river, a region of large and beautifully landscaped estates. He is a member of the Landscape Association of New York, and has made a national study of the work.

IMPROVEMENT OF TRACT LAUNCHED

Acacia Hills Re-platted to Provide Maximum of Street Frontage

The development of beautiful Acacia Hills has been taken over by the Pacific Southwest Development company, announces Karl W. Martin, sales agent, from his headquarters at the corner of East Palmer avenue and Tyler street.

"The tract has been entirely re-platted, to provide the maximum of street frontages," says Mr. Martin, "and all lots have been priced to sell fast. Actual improvement is already under way and anyone who will drive out here will notice a great change.

"Long famed for its view and offering one of the most attractive hillside properties anywhere close in to Los Angeles, Acacia Hills will now go forward to a richly deserved and complete development. Overlooking the Verdugo and San Fernando valleys, the Sierra Madre mountains and the Hollywood hills, the tract offers home-seekers beautiful lots within minutes of Brand boulevard and right at the very doors of the new Glendale avenue electric line.

Profit Possibilities
"We have salesmen on this tract daily and Sundays, and invite the public to come out and inspect the property. Susceptible of the most artistic development, with restrictions high enough to enhance the environment of charm and refinement, yet low enough to permit of medium priced homes, Acacia Hills stands unique among Glendale subdivisions.

"And from the viewpoint of investment as well, this tract offers great possibilities. The amount of close-in view property is exceedingly limited. When it is gone there can be no more, except at re-sale prices. With the constant flood of new residents pouring in from the north, south and east, there will be many in the coming months who will cast longing eyes at Acacia Hills, where such re-sales will be frequent."

Kings County Plans to Pump Its Water

HANFORD, Jan. 26.—Farmers in the Kings River district are being urged by Charles Kaupke, water master, to make every effort toward utilization of the half million acre feet of underground water in this district during the summer.

The irrigation expert advises that all pumps be renovated and advises farmers who have no pumping facilities to make arrangements for such without delay.

It is said that but eight inches of snow remained on the ground in the Kings River watershed, December 31, with a water content of .20 of an inch, the lowest in eight years, according to Kaupke's records.

Mountain Lions Are Numerous in State

VISALIA, Jan. 26.—Mountain lions are more numerous than for many years in the National Park, according to forest rangers, whose reports have caused park officials to make efforts to secure the services of Charles Bruce, state lion hunter. Two years ago Bruce waged a very successful war against the marauders.

Tracks of lions in areas of the Sequoia National Park, hitherto not known to be infested, have been discovered by rangers, indicating that the menace is becoming acute. February is the best month for hunting these deer exterminating fauna and it is expected Bruce will be secured for that time.

Patent Hinge
Solves Problem

The patenting of a hinge of novel design has permitted

Arthur L. Fryer to manufacture folding kitchen and household conveniences so much more efficient and substantial than anything of the kind yet devised, that Mr. Fryer expects to have to devote almost his entire time to producing them. The hinge is of steel, and is so strong that it will support half a breakfast table. In other words, Mr. Fryer makes a breakfast table that can be folded in the middle and shoved into a wall like a bread board.

Cabinets with seats that when folded up become pantries and doors, folding ironing boards, and many other conveniences have been perfected through use of the new hinge. Mr. Fryer expects to manufacture them for sale to other contractors. He has recently moved his office from 227 South Brand boulevard to 267 North Glendale where he is fitting up sample kitchens embodying his various improvements, and a cordial invitation is extended to all prospective builders to inspect them. The Glendale News' builders' department certainly advises everybody planning a modern home to investigate this.

Mr. Fryer has lived in Glendale 15 years. He is one of the oldest contractors here. He has engaged steadily in the building game, and during the past two years has built two-thirds of the finest houses in Glendale.

Highest Quality
Hardwood Floors

Johnson Bros. Hardwood Flooring company is one of the best hardwood floor companies in the west. After five years in the capacity of salesman, salesmanager, and finally as manager of that company's Glendale branch, Vernon C. Tennis was successful in putting over a deal whereby he became sole owner. He is now doing business as the Vernon C. Tennis Hardwood Floor company, his office being at 108 West Colorado.

Last year the company did more than $100,000 business, and, after working with the end in view of a perfect organization, it now has the best mechanics and workmen possible to get together. This year Mr. Tennis expects to do $200,000 business, and is negotiating a deal whereby the company will buy its lumber in carload lots direct from the East. Owners and builders are the ones who will benefit in the long run by specifying that Vernon C. Tennis shall lay their hardwood floors. They will know that their floors will be of the very highest quality and that the price will compare favorably with that charged by other firms, particularly those not able to buy lumber in carload lots.

BEARS DO WELL IN SPORTS FIELD

Resume of Accomplishment
By California State University Squad

BERKELEY, Jan. 26.—California bids fair to outdistance her past record, according to the extensive training arrangements completed for the spring season. The University of California today stands with an athletic record that might well be envied by universities throughout the country.

For three years the Blue and Gold has suffered no defeat in the two major sports, football and basketball. In football, under the coaching of A. (Andy) Smith, the team has seen not a single loss in three years. Two men, Horrell and Beam, were included in Walter Camp's All-American selections.

In track, under the coaching of Walter Christie, the Bruin men have won the L. C. A. A. championship for three years, and their chances for the coming season are of the brightest. Much new material, as well as a substantial nucleus of veterans, will go to make up another winning team. Barber, Farnsworth, Shepard, Ryan and Goertz are all sprinters that have performed on the cinders in good time, and will be a strong factor in deciding this year's record.

Good Casaba Team
In basketball the Bruin team won the southern sectional championship, but lost the section conference to Idaho. This year Coach Earl Wright started with a nucleus of five men, all veterans, and to date the varsity hoop squad has shown a wonderful brand of playing.

In baseball California won the Stanford series. The clash with Stanford is the big game for California in any sport. The team, coached by Carl Zambach, went to the Hawaiian islands during the summer months and gave the islanders an eye full of some real diamond tactics. This year the squad looks more promising than ever and Coach Zambach hopes to annex another intercollegiate title.

The net men were feverish with Stanford last year, and the tennis squad went east to take part in intercollegiate and club matches. Bud Chandler, a man who played on last year's freshman team, has been given second place in the junior national singles, and will be one of the strongest men of this season's varsity squad.

The golf and soccer events were both won by California against Stanford. Golf has been slowly gaining favor, and an intercollegiate meet is to be held at the Del Monte course on Washington's birthday.

Candidates for Olympiad
In swimming Herrington and Mitchell are likely candidates for Olympic game honors.

California is at a disadvantage in crew in that facilities for training are not of the best. Washington came down from the north and beat California last season, but the sting was taken out of the defeat when the Washington team went back east and captured the intercollegiate championship. This year the crews have taken to the water early. Carroll Ebricht of the university has been chosen as coach. This means that he will introduce the Connibar system, which he learned from Connibar himself, and which was introduced by Leader at Yale with such good results last year.

Mexico Will Cement Friendship By Radio

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 26.—The secretary of the department of foreign relations has made the announcement that within the next six weeks the government of Mexico will present a completely equipped wireless station to the governments of Guatemala, Costa Rica, San Salvador and Honduras in an effort to more closely cement the diplomatic relations existing with the Central American republics.

THE GLENDALE

"Crooked Alley" shows at the Glendale Theatre for the last times today. A Universal all-star attraction with a cast including Laura La Plante, Thomas Carlin, Joseph Dowling, Lillian Worth and Kate Kester. The story is from one of Jack Boyle's "Boston Blackie" tales of life in the underworld.

Boston Blackie, for the information of those who never read the Jack Boyle stories, is a master criminal leader of exceptional cleverness. In the story of "Crooked Alley" he comes face to face with the biggest problem of his life: the handling of a young lady. She is the daughter of Dan Tyrell, notorious criminal now in the penitentiary, and she needs protection.

Five acts of standard Bert Levey coast-to-coast vaudeville also feature today's bill at the Glendale Theatre. And, starting Sunday, "The Temple of Venus," an unusual picture, enters a four day run.

WIGHT BUILDS UP STELLAR QUINTET

Former Glendale Coach
Makes Good With University of California

By JOSEPH Q. RIZKIK
Special to The Evening News.
BERKELEY, Jan. 26.—In picking the 1924 varsity basketball squad of the University of California, Coach Earl Wright built upon a nucleus of five veterans. These men played a good game all throughout last season and have been supplemented by four new men.

Forty men were originally aspirants for the varsity squad and of these nine were picked.

Captain John Tait, has played at forward for the past three seasons and was chosen last year as all coast forward. He plays in combination with Sammy Ladar, the fastest man ever seen on a Blue and Gold court. Ladar is a new man on the squad and earned his permanent position by playing some of the most brilliant games of basketball ever witnessed in the southern part of the state. He suffered a broken finger in the southern tour and will probably be out until the Arizona game on February 1. Ladar was developed on the Olympic Club courts in San Francisco and is one of the stellar players of the season.

Other Fast Men
Harold Huovinen is a forward and center and one of the most accurate shots on the squad. He won his letter last season and has exhibited some rare form.

Harold Belasco plays at running guard and is a fast man. He won his letter last year. Aub Kincaid is a standing guard and last year showed enough fight to beat out the captain of the squad for the position. He is a veteran and a calm player. Al Kyte is also a "letter" man and plays either center or guard. His shooting last season was called miraculous.

Benny Holmes, Higgins and Carver are the three new men who have risen from last year's freshman squad and who show great promise.

Ebricht Replaces Wallace
To replace Ben Wallace, who was unable to devote his entire time to the work, Carol Ebricht of the University of Washington has been chosen as crew coach of the University of California. Wallace will be retained in the capacity of advisory coach.

Ebricht was coxswain of the Washington varsity in 1915, '16 and '17, and was coached by Connibar whose famous system was so successfully introduced by Leader at Yale last year.

Russel Nagler has been chosen as assistant to Ebricht. He was also coxswain of the Washington varsity and has assisted in coaching since his graduation.

The Connibar system of coaching and stroking will be introduced.

Metal Name Plates
Metal name plates are now being installed in the California Memorial Stadium at the University of California.

Holders of stadium subscriptions are having their names engraved on metal placed on the seats for which they have expressed preference.

A new turf is being placed on the playing field in readiness for next season's work.

Bag punching has been included in the physical education department schedule at the University of California.

Four outdoor bag punching platforms have been erected and an instructor has been put in charge of teaching the new art.

Professor Kleiberger, head of the department, hopes to stage exhibition bouts as soon as he is able to pick a team of proficient bag workers.

Steiner of the Masons rolled 227 for the high single game of the evening. Monday night the Psenner brothers meet the Pasadena Biscuit company in a Foot-hill League fixture.

POP WARNER DUE TO COACH CARDS

Eyes of Football World Are Pointed on Stanford
This Year

By COPELAND C. BURG
For International News Service.
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26.—(Glenn (Pop) Warner, great football mentor, will arrive in Palo Alto in April to take active charge of Stanford university football.

Eyes of the football world will center on Stanford this fall to watch the attempt of Coach Warner, "daddy of 'em all," put Stanford down in red on the football map. Known from coast to coast, Warner has been hailed as the "miracle man of football" and his coming is bound to add generally to interest in the Pacific Coast gridiron contests.

"Beat California!"
That will be the sweet refrain which will greet Warner when he hits the turf at Palo Alto and his shout will be continually hummed in his ears. For the past four years Coach Andy Smith's California "wonder" team has romped to coast conference title and Stanford alumni and undergraduates are frantic to see Stanford red waving over the blue and gold of the bears.

Introduces Warner System
Warner comes to Stanford with the foundations of his work already in place. He has been acting as advisory coach for Stanford and one of his products, Coach Andy Kerr, has already introduced the rudiments of the Warner system which years ago produced in the Carlisle Indians perhaps America's greatest player and later found expression in some powerful scoring machines at the University of Pittsburgh.

Warner's task is to supply the finishing, personal touch on which Stanford supporters really are relying so much.
"Just watch us go now!" is the challenge of the Cardinal alumni today but Warner may not accomplish anything as noteworthy during his first year at Stanford as is demanded of him. In the first place California will have a second title fall almost as formidable as in past seasons and the University of Southern California, which beat the Reds last year, looms in the offing as a powerful aggregation. Warner's advent has only added to California's determination to remain supreme and the Bears will be keen than ever to defeat their ancient rival.

Coach Warner will probably have a lot of ripping, tearing and smashing to do with football ideas and customs at Stanford. He may go about this in a quiet way that will not attract attention but the mark of his handiwork will certainly be carried by Stanford's 1924 eleven.

Ernie Nevers, sensational Cardinal back, no doubt will be the nucleus around which Stanford's new "miracle-man" team will be built. Nevers gives promise of being one of America's greatest players. If he comes up to expectations with Warner at Stanford, even Walter Camp may hear ideas and customs at Stanford. He may go about this in a quiet way that will not attract attention but the mark of his handiwork will certainly be carried by Stanford's 1924 eleven.

Oxy Tossers Tangle With Two U. C. Teams

Occidental's varsity and frosh basketball teams will clash with the S. B. U. C. asaba teams in a double-header this evening in the Cub gymnasium. The Tiger babes scrap the Branch yearlings in a fast game, to start at 7:15 o'clock. Both teams have lots of fight and pep. Then at 8:15 o'clock the varsities play in the third round of the conference ten-game schedule. S. B. U. C. is tied for first place with Whittier. Each has won two games. Oxy is at the bottom of the column, having dropped both the Whittier and Caltech contests.

According to score, the Cubs are heavy favorites. However, the handicapped Oxy machine is beginning to show sign of real basketball. They are playing a much better game than at first. The improvement of playing in the Caltech game over that in the Whittier slaughter is evidence that the Tigers will be able to give the Conference leaders a run for their money tonight.

At the San Fernando pavilion Wednesday night, Al McCoy, ex-middleweight champion of the world, will stop for four rounds in a boxing exhibition with Jack Downey, in the main event of the regular weekly festival. Downey is also an old-timer, holding two decisions over Jack Dempsey.

The semi-windup will be a return match between Dynamite Jim Brown of San Fernando and Joe Bentley, the Lyceum wallop-er. Last week these boys fought one of the most thrilling encounters ever staged in the valley.

Battling Ward of Lankershim will get another start when he tackles John Villalobos, the shiftily Filipino, in the feature preliminary. The remainder of the card follows:
Terry Griffin vs. Bob White.
Kewpie Ecklund vs. Jack Gard-ner.
Kid Ponce vs. Young Siki.

Charlie Jewtraw Is Winner Skating Race

CHAMOINIX, France, Jan. 26.—Charlie Jewtraw, of Lake Placid, N. Y., scored the first American victory in the 1924 Olympiad in winning the 500 meter skating championship today, opening event. Jewtraw's victory was on a time basis, the upper New York entry skating the distance in 44 seconds. The American entered the race fully aware that he had to do or die, a figurative death in the attempt, because Moore, Kaskey and Steinmetz, the remaining entries, had made slower time than Olsen, of Norway.

The Men's Forensic debating teams of Occidental college will open the season Thursday, February 7, meeting both Whittier and the University of Southern California in the first triangular debate of the year. The Oxy squad, under Coach Lindsley, has been working nearly two months in preparation for the coming series of debates. Many capable orators have tried for positions and the final selections have limited the squad to eight debaters, or rather two affirmative and two negative teams. Those surviving the eliminations are worthy of representing the Tigers in the hottest kind of word battles. Most of the members of the teams have had previous debating experience both in conference debates and prep contests. They compose the best debating team that Occidental has had in several years. The prospects of winning the conference are very good and the Oxy silver tongued

DEBATING SQUAD READY FOR FRAY

Oxy Orators Open Schedule
In Three Cornered Event, Feb. 7th.

The Men's Forensic debating teams of Occidental college will open the season Thursday, February 7, meeting both Whittier and the University of Southern California in the first triangular debate of the year. The Oxy squad, under Coach Lindsley, has been working nearly two months in preparation for the coming series of debates. Many capable orators have tried for positions and the final selections have limited the squad to eight debaters, or rather two affirmative and two negative teams. Those surviving the eliminations are worthy of representing the Tigers in the hottest kind of word battles. Most of the members of the teams have had previous debating experience both in conference debates and prep contests. They compose the best debating team that Occidental has had in several years. The prospects of winning the conference are very good and the Oxy silver tongued orators are greatly to be feared by all opponents.

The question to be considered for discussion in all the college debates during the present season is, resolved, "That congress should be given power to nullify decisions of the supreme court by re-enacting the laws declared unconstitutional."

Two Debates Planned
In the first round of the triangular debates the Oxy affirmative team, composed of Verne Mantel and Robert Stevenson, will debate the Whittier college negative team on the Occidental platform. The negative team, made up of Edward Jones and Francis Henshaw, meet the Trojan word warriors on the U. S. C. home platform. Both debates are scheduled for 8 p. m.

It is interesting to note that Francis Henshaw is only a freshman, but has succeeded in qualifying for the varsity debating team. Henshaw is a graduate of Pasadena high school in the class of 1921. He has been out of school two years. During his prep years Henshaw won many honors both for himself and Pasadena high. He won the Davis Hall oratorical contest, the Southern California Oratorical contest, and took part in numerous debates.

Stevenson, Jones and Mantel are all former Oxy debaters. Jones made the varsity two years, while others represented Occidental in debating last season.

Before you choose final residence in this wonderful Southland, before you build the home of your dreams, the sturdy substantial home in which you expect to spend the rest of your days, see Sparr Heights and its restricted residential district—Montecito Park

MONTECITO PARK

In this beautiful hillslope district, five minutes north of Glendale on the old Verdugo Road, you will find everything that your heart can desire. If you lean toward the simplicity and beauty of Nature, it is here in the great trees, the flaming flowers, the rugged hills and the towering peaks at all sides of the broad 1500 acres that is Sparr Heights. If you want the urban polish of life, it is also here in the nearness of great Los Angeles—25 motor minutes away—and in the presence of our $40,000 community center building and, right at your front door, the beautiful 115-acre plant of the

Oakmont Country Club

The country club bought its land from us, in the heart of Sparr Heights and right in front of Montecito Park, because it was realized that Sparr Heights possesses a maximum of the best qualities offered in Glendale residence and surrounding. Every lot in beautiful Montecito Park looks out over the dainty clubhouse and its 18-hole golf course.

Oakmont Country Club already has its great rambling old English manse type of a club house up and nearly ready for occupancy. In addition, the final touches are being put on the greens of the 18-hole course. The swimming pools and the tennis courts are being rounded into shape, simultaneously with the furnishing of the interior of the club.

Concerted Action Is Sought by Realtors

Resolutions adopted by the California Real Estate Association board of directors, at their recent session in Los Angeles, called for concerted state action in developing the Colorado river project as outlined by President Coolidge; approved the secretary of the treasury's plan for lower federal taxes; endorsed again the tax exempt security amendment which would prohibit further issuance of non-taxable bonds; demand investigation of the $2,000 bond collected by the state from realty brokers "as to its cost;" deprecated the use of the highways by realty brokers and salesmen for soliciting sales and calling upon state and local officers to prohibit this practice; recommended granting of realty licenses only to those who desire to make the business a profession; recommended the association proceed to have the entire real estate license fund used for real estate administration purposes.

M. V. Hartranft of Tujunga was chairman of the committee on resolutions, which also included W. I. Hollingsworth and Freeman H. Bloodgood and other well-known realtors.

NOTICE!

We are building a five-room house as per cut, known as the No. 3 special, and I have made some very good buys in material, so that I can make an attractive price of $8550 including double garage, all necessary cement work, hardwood floors, linoleum, shades, curtain rods and hand decorated living room walls. This place can be financed to 100% if necessary, or a first loan of $2700. We are only going to build six of these at this price. We are also in shape to finance flats, apartments, stores or garages, if we do the drafting. Come and talk to our draftsman in regard to building.
